WEST WARD PRIMARIES.

Legal Opinions of Both Parties Declare the Board in Error.

In our issue of the 20th inst. we called attention to errors committed by the officers of the Republican Primary Elections held on the 16th inst. in the North and West wards. Our notice of these errors, was not for the mere purpose of criticism, —it was for the purpose of bringing the matter more plainly before our readers, that such irregularities may be avoided in the future. In our issue of 23d inst. we published a letter signed by A. V. Smith, Judge of the Primary Election, of the West ward who calls the News' views of the case a "communication" and makes an effort to cover up his own mistakes; because it was a mistake for the Primary Election board to throw out any vote;—it was their sworn duty to count all the votes as cast and make the correct return to the Chairman of the County Committee. Our views are verified by competent legal authority of both parties. To make the News position more thoroughly understood, we give this illustration.

Suppose that Jones and Miller had been the competing candidates in the West ward. That Miller's supporters had cast thirty one ballots with a different set of delegate's names, on each ticket; each voter instructing his delegates to vote for Miller. On the other hand the constituents of Jones voted for one set of delegates, which would give them thirty votes, as well as thirty votes of instructions in favor of Jones. This clearly shows that a majority of the votes cast are in favor of instructions for Miller, although the delegates elected are in favor of Jones. The courts hold, that the intention of the voter must be respected, which in this instance, would require the Jones delegates to vote for Miller. According to the decision of the West ward board, the entire Miller vote would be thrown out and the delegates returned as instructed for Jones, notwithstanding there are thirty one votes instructing the delegates to vote for Miller and only thirty votes in favor of Jones—therefore, Mr. A. V. Smith is clearly in error in his defence of the boards' acts.

We learn further, that all the members of the West ward board were in favor of one candidate. This was also wrong. It is clearly the intention and spirit of the law, that the minority shall be represented on all election boards, at general as well as Primary Elections. This principle was not respected in the make up of the board of the West ward. This was also an error, for it is the duty of the members of the County Committee in each election precinct, who is Chairman of the vigilance Committee, to organize the Primary Election board to represent the majority as well as the minority; failing in which, it is looked upon as a species of petty bossism as well as machine politics, which always leads to dissatisfaction and censure.

The best plan is to be fair and honest in politics as well as every thing else, when there will be no room for complaint.

We invite discussion upon this subject, as our purpose is not merely to criticise the board for doing what we believe they did do from a sense of duty, as they understood it, but we have the best legal authority for saying they were wrong—though perhaps unintentionally so. Then we want to enlighten the public upon this important subject, that like mistakes may be avoided in future and serious trouble to the party prevented.

Mathematics.

Mathematics should be regarded as a kind of mental shorthand; a ready means for stating a proposition exactly; an instrument for recording thoughts so that they cannot be misconstrued. It is no longer to be associated with things uninteresting and vague; the reverse is undoubtedly the fact; to a mathematician, there is as much delight in the solution of a problem as a musician finds in composing a sonata Mathematics is not essential to the art of theorizing, but it is essential to the art of theorizing rightly; it is the only economical method of thought. It was Darwin's belief that "no one could be a good observer unless he was an active theorizer." Then, too a mathematician can generally give points to a logician in a subtile argument, for it implies no trickery stronger than the truth.—The Electrical Review.

The Military to Maintain Law.

The Huns and Italians composing the majority of the striking coal miners in the neighborhood of Punxsutawney, after refusing to accept the compromise offered by their employers, concluded to seize the mines, patrol the town, and not only prevent by force of arms the employment of other miners, but to prevent everybody else from transacting their ordinary business. Setting all laws at defiance they have compelled the Governor to order out a brigade of the National Guard to assist the Sheriff of Jefferson county in the enforcement of law and the maintenance of the right of every citizens of Pennsylvania to pursue his ordinary avocation.

There can be but one end to the criminal folly of the strikers. They must relinquish possession of the mines they have seized or be driven from them at the point of the bayonet. There is no nonsense about the orders under which Gen. Wiley is acting. He is to move his troops in a compact body and to order the rioters to disperse, under penalty of being fired upon in case of refusal. If they shall fail to disperse the order to fire is to be given and every soldier is instructed to fire with effect and until the mob disappears. If one brigade shall not prove sufficient there are two more in reserve which can be ordered into service at a moment's notice.

If the Punxsutawney rioters were intelligent Americans and not ignorant foreigners they would not realize the hopelessness of an attempt to seize and control mine property by force of arms. Being ignorant foreigners there seems to be no other way of teaching them the simple and much needed lesson of the supremacy of American law except by a display of military force. It is to be hoped that the sight of gleaming bayonets in the hands of uniformed regiments will recall these misguided rioters to their senses. If not, General Wiley and his troops have no option but to vindicate the law at any cost of life or treasure. This great Commonwealth cannot be abandoned to the control of ignorant foreign rioters.

A Relic of the Great Flood.

Respecting the finding of a relic of the great flood, the Johnstown Tribune says:

Last Friday while wading in the Stonycreek River a short distance below the Johnstown and Stonycreek Railroad station, John Fearnly, a lad living in the fourth ward, found a hunting case gold watch and chain, with a small gold cross attached, which upon examination, proved to have been the property of Rev. John P. Lichtenberg, who with his wife and three children, were drowned in the great flood of May 31, 1889. On the inside of the watch is the following inscription: "J. P. Lichenberg, Birthday, June, 30, 1886."

At the time of the flood Rev. Litchenberg was pastor of the German Evangelical Lutheran church, Jackson street and resided at the church parsonage, No. 310 Locust street, from which place he and his family were lost. The remains of Rev. and Mrs. Lichtenberg were found after the flood and removed to Philadelpha by relatives for interment. The bodies of the three children are not known to have been found. Prof. Charles F. Blander, of Philadelphia, a brother of Mrs. Lichtenberg, has been notified of the finding of the watch.

MRS. HALLIDAY, the Monticello murderess, is the first woman, to be condemned to the electric chair. Her crimes were of peculiar atrociousness, and those who recognize the justice of capital punishment will agree that the death penalty in her case is richly deserved. In spite of this there are any number of persons who will join in a moment to cheat the law, simply because the convict is a woman. Mrs. Halliday has a criminal record that would put to blush many male murderers, and the fact that she is a woman is no reason why sheshould not be put to death. The question of her sanity has been clearly established, regardless of her shrewd efforts to feign the contrary. She is evidently one of the worst women that ever lived in this country, and the sooner she is placed upon the death chair the better. The day has gone by for a sickly sentimentality to cheat the law of its due.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, June 25, 1894.
(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

That Senator Chandler knew what he was talking about when he stated his belief, a few days ago, that the Whitney syndicate, in which it is known that ex-Governor Russel, of Mass., who was lately a guest of the White House, is interested, and believed by many that Sec. Dan Lamont is also interested, had an understanding with somebody by which free coal was to be secured in the tariff bill from the House and Senate conference committee, is now apparent to everybody who is familiar with the under-currents of democratic waters. And the understanding is with no less a personage than Mr. Cleveland himself, and it includes free iron ore, which a syndicate headed by Andrew Carnegie wishes to profit by, the idea being to establish a great steel making plant somewhere on tide-water, probably in Maryland, which will be supplied with Nova Scotia coal by the Whitney syndicate and Cuban iron ore by another syndicate, thus taking bread from the mouths of thousands of Americans engaged in the production of coal and iron ore. Can such an understanding be carried out? That it is contemplated is shown by the declination of Senators Jones, and Vest who are certain to be members of the conference committee, to promise the Alabama and West Virginia Senators when asked to do so that they would stand out to the last against putting coal and iron on the free list. The House is, of course, ready to vote for free coal and iron, as it did in passing the original Wilson bill, and unless the democratic Senators from the states interested shall positively refuse their votes for the bill agreed upon by the conference committe, if coal and iron are put upon the free list, it looks as though the understanding might materialize into a solid fact, the democratic party in Congress being so largely dominated by trusts and syndicates.

Ex-paramount Commissioner Blount is in Washington. It is presumed that he came to say to his great and good friend Grover that the people of his state having shown no disposition to appreciate his paramount abilities by electing him to an office he had come to the conclusion that a seat at the federal pie counter would be thankfully accepted. But, horrible to relate, it is said that his great and good friend Grover declined to see him and that he had to content himself with pouring his tale of woe into the ears of private secretary Thurber, whose antipathy toward applicants for pie counter seats is as well known in Washington as the native Georgians love for the juicy watermelon, when it is red and ripe. Mr. Paramount will not be in danger of getting the summer complaint this season by mixing watermelon with official pie.

The decision of the House elections committee to unseat Representative Funston, of Kans., and seat Moore, the democratic contestant, was not made on the merits of the case, but arbitrarily and for the purpose of injuring the interests of Mr. Funston in this year's Congressional campaign.

Senator Hill, did not succeed either in defeating or getting any amendment modifying the income tax adopted, but he had lots of fun with the democrats and populists. He taunted Senator Harris until the old gentleman was wild with rage and he held Senator Allen, of Nebr., and the populists up to ridicule in a manner that will not soon be forgotten by the pops. Hill did get one amendment adopted, and that was suggested sarcastically—to exempt the salary of the President of the United States from income tax.

The cases of Havemeyer and Searles, of the sugar trust, have been duly certified to the Grand Jury for indictment for refusing to tell the Senate investigating committee about the trust's political contributions, although the democratic Senators on that committee voted against it and tried to get the Senate to prevent it. There isn't the slightest danger, however that either of them will be punished; they stand too well with the powers that be.

Well, the tariff bill is likely to reach a final vote in the Senate this week and to pass, sugar trust schedule and all. What will be done with the sugar schedule in conference is a matter of some doubt, but the "pull" of the sugar trust is strong enough with the democrats to make the chances in its favor.

GLADSTONE, England's "Grand Old Man" announces that he cannot visit the United States this year, but does not say that he may not come in twenty-five or thirty years when he has all of the trees in his neighborhood cut down. This is to be regretted. We are not much given, when we have sense, to making a fuss over English visitors because so many of them have only one accomplishment, that of sucking the ends of their canes, but it would be much to our liking to meet Mr. Gladstone in these parts and do him much honor. Gladstone is a good enough man to come over and become an American citizen.

The Correct Reason.

To the Editor of the DAILY NEWS:

An article in your paper a few days ago entitled "Votes Thrown Out," contained the following statement:

"In the West ward there was a North ward and a Spring township ticket voted instructing tor Judge Furst, both of which were thrown out. This was a mistake. They should have been counted as instructions for Furst."

Your correspondent wrote the article before cooling down over the fight as he has fallen into several errors of fact and reasoning, and concludes by reflecting upon the integrity of the election officers. Two tickets were thrown out, but the Spring township one above referred to was marked instructed for John G. Love for president judge, and not for Judge Furst.

The election board threw out both these tickets for the reason that none of the names marked thereon were names of qualified electors of the West ward, and therefore were not eligible as delegates of that ward. All the votes cast at the last primary election in the West ward are in my possession and may be examined by the proper authorities at any time.

A. V. SMITH,
Judge of Elections.

Bellefonte, June 23rd, 1894.

The Fourth-of-July Number of The New York Ledger.

The Fourth-of-July special holiday number of the New York Ledger is a publication of unrivaled beauty and interest. The cover has a beautiful girl waving an American flag from a window as a decoration. The contents of this number of the Ledger make a strong appeal to patriotic Americans. "Our National Birthday" and "Bunker Hill" are the subjects of special editorial articles. "Johnny's Fourth of July" is an amusing poetical effusion, dedicated to the spirit of Young America intent on celebrating the holiday. This number of the Ledger contains the first chapters of Mrs. E. D. E. N. Southworth's famous novel, "The Widows of Widowville," which will be read with delight by old and young readers. Mr. Fay S. Pathburn's new story, entitled "Suspected," and Mr. Seward W. Hopkin's story, "The Two Gentlemen of Hawaii," are continued from previous numbers, and are both strong original American novels. The Ledger is now an illustrated paper of the first class, and with its various departments of Science, Correspondence, Woman's World, miscellany and children's stories forms the best and cheapest illustrated paper published in America.

State Troops on Riot Duty.

Few persons who have not examined the subject would suspect how often the citizen soldiers of this country have been called out since the close of the civil war to preserve order and execute the laws. In the last congress, a committee collected statistics on the subject from the various states and territories. Virginia, within a period of about 19 years, has summoned her troops out about 33 times; Texas, in her 16 years, has called out hers 29 times; Iowa, within the same period, 20 times; and so the list went on. Of course there are vast differences of experiences in this respect, several of the states not having employed their forces at all for riot duty in quarter of a century, and several others only once or twice; but the aggregate result is surprising. Pennsylvania, in the mining troubles of 1871, called out 1,000 men; in the lumber troubles of 1872, 450 men; in the railroad troubles of 1873 800 men; in the labor riots of 1875, 1,800 men; in those of 1877 as many as 9,433, during a period lasting nearly four months and at acost of $710,000. Tennessee is another state that has needed her militia for prolonged and severe riot duty. Indeed, the occasions for calling out state troops are most varied, including besides those already indicated, election riots, threatened lynchings, the protection of jails, race troubles with the Chinese, and so on through a long list.—New York Sun.

Marriage Licenses.

Following is the list of marriage licenses granted by the register of Centre county during the past week:

John L. Hartsock, of Buffalo Run, and Myrtle E. Robison, of Huston township.

Alfred M. Wasson, of Lemont, and Sarah C. Pierce, of State College.

Guy C. Linn and Carrie M. Gehert, both of Bellefonte.

Simpson E. Ferree, of Minneapolis, Minn., and Clara B. Holter, of Howard.

J. A. B. Miller, of Pine Grove Mills, and Lena B. Viehdorfer, of Pine Glenn

IN THE CAMP AT PUNXY.

What Lieutenant Reeder Says of the Condition There.

Lieutenant Wilbur F. Reeder came home from Punxsutawney Saturday evening to attend to a little personal business and while here he was seen by a NEWS reporter and questioned in regard to the condition of affairs in the Punxy region. Lieut Reeder said that the reports appearing in many of the newspapers are so terribly exaggerated as to bear the least resemblance to truth and give the people no idea of the true condition of affairs in that district. From the time the troops arrived on the ground there has been no hostile demonstration of any kind on the part of the miners. In fact, they don't even seem to have any organization, and there are no indications that they even contemplate doing anything rash.

The only demonstration was on the way out a party of miners numbering about four hundred, who had marched from Houtzdale to that neighborhood to induce an old farmer and his two sons, who were operating a little bank of their own for domestic use, to quit mining, met the train and stoned the engineer. A batalion of the soldiers were ordered out and sent after the miners who soon scampered off in all directions.

Mr. Reeder states that the operators expect to start their mines today under protection of the soldiers; and, should there be any hostile demonstration, it will likely occur at this time. However, all the old men are to be given the privilege of returning to work, if they will do so.

As to Company B, every man is in camp but two, one of whom is sick and the other in Philadelphia, and the boys are all well and doing duty like old veterans. They are in camp near the Adrian mine and have as comfortable quarters as soldiers generally have.

Ursinus College Commencement.

In connection with the Commencement of Ursinus College, Collegeville, Pa., held June 17th to 21st, the Degrees of Bachelor of Arts was conferred upon 10 graduates; the degree of A. M. upon two men, and B. D. upon two.

The honorary degree of D. D. was conferred upon the Rev. E. J. Fogel, Fogelsville. The Rev. Charles B. Shultz, President of Linden Hall Seminary, Lititz, the Rev. F. W. Berleman, Philadelphia. The honorary degree of A. M. upon H. Augustus Wilson, M. D., Philadelphia; Mr. William Zeller, of the Editorial Staff of the Philadelphia Times; and J. Horace Landis Conshohocken.

Six new directors were elected: Henry Francis, Spring City; Rev. N. W. Helffrich, Fogelville; Hon. A. Witmen Dambly, Skippack; A. H. Fetterolf, LL. D., Philadelphia; James M. Andres, M. D., Ph. D., Philadelphia; Rev. D. W. Ebbert, Milton, Pa., Alumni Director.

The Board resolved to celebrate in connection with next year's Commencement the quarto-centennial of the founding of the College, and appointed a general Committee of twenty-five, with the Hon. Henry K. Boyer, A. M., of Philadelphia, as Chairman, to raise in connection with the celebration a fund of $100,000 for the further endownment and equipment of the institution. The new equipment is to include a gymnasium building and a physical laboratory.

The Commencement was largely attended and awakened general enthusiasm.

That blatant demagogue, J. S. Coxey, having tasted of the cup of notoriety, thirsts for more. His steady decline from the pinnacle of a national caricature urges him to renewed attempt to keep himself before the public, and to attain this end he is striding toward anarchism. His declaration at a public meeting in Philadelphia Sunday that Representatives who do not represent their districts in Congress should be met at the depot with a rope is a fair specimen of his latest utterance. The next time Mr. Coxey serves a term in prison it will be not for trespass on the grass, but trespass on the broader grounds of freedom of speech.

Senator Meek for Governor.

It has been suggested by some of the Democrats of Centre and Clearfield counties that Hon. P. Gray Meek, of Bellefonte, would make a very popular candidate for governor. His record as a legislator, they claim, has been clean and in the interest of the farmer and laboring class, and that it is well known that he is an opponent of trusts and monopolies. A prominent Philipsburg democrat said to us last evening that he believed that his nomination would be heartily endorsed by all who know him regardless of politics.—Philipsburg Journal.

THIS appears to be a bad sort of a year for the Judges of Pennsylvania, whose terms expire. On the heels of the announcement that Judge Furst, of the Centre Huntingdon District, had been defeated for a renomination, comes the news that Judge Sadler, of Cumberland county, has been treated to a dose of the same medicine. Judge Sadler is one of the ablest of the State Judges, and has on several occasions been prominently mentioned as a candidate for the Supreme bench. The people are shaking things up at a lively rate in Pennsylvania this year, and it is hard to tell what is going to drop.

A TRIBUTE TO PREACHERS.

Free Trips to Egypt, the Holy Land and Europe for Five of Them.

The Pittsburg Times, which is always doing something out of the common, announces its intention of paying all the expenses of a trip to Egypt, the Holy Land and the capitals of Europe, to be taken by the five preachers who are voted most popular by its readers. The voting will begin next Monday, July 2, and will continue for six months, every publication day during that time. The Times will print a coupon, which when properly filled out and sent to the Excursion Department of The Pittsburg Times will count as one vote. After the 31st of December the votes will be counted, and the five preachers who have received the greatest number of votes will be invited to make this wonderful tour as the guest of The Times.

The tour will occupy about ten weeks. The departure of the party from New York will be so timed as to enable the tourists, traveling by easy stages, to spend Holy Week in Jerusalem. En route there will be stops at Gibraltar, Genoa, Naples, Alexandria, Cairo, Ismalia, Joffa, Ramleh and Jerusalem. At each place there will be abundant time to see and study all the objects of interest. The return trip will be by way of Turin, the Mt. Cenis Tunnel, Paris, London and Southampton. The party will be accompanied by a representative of the The Times, who, in addition to paying every cent of the expense incurred, will attend to every detail necessary for the comfort and enjoyment of the guests of the Times. The accommodations everywhere will be the best money can buy.

Was Marriage a Failure.

Saturday evening last there arrived in Tyrone a prepossessing woman who made inquiry for an officer of the law. She found Officer A. R. Barr into whose hands she placed an interesting case. Her story was that she is Mrs. Viola A. Huff, of Philadelphia, the wife of A. J. Huff, a young man who has of late made Tyrone his headquarters while engaged as a traveling agent in this section. She stated that they were married in Roncevert, West Virginia, November 22, 1888, and had lived together as man and wife until fifteen months ago when he deserted her, since which time he had sent her but little money, quite insufficient for her support, so that she had been obliged to maintain herself by sewing.

Hearing that Huff was in Tyrone and that he was paying marked attention to a young lady here, she came to this place to secure legal redress. Last evening, upon her information, Officers Barr and Snyder arrested Huff and conducted him before Justice A. A. Smith to answer the charge of desertion and non-support. The defendent stoutly denied that he was the husband of the plaintiff, but he waived immediate hearing and furnished bail in the sum of $800 for his appearance at court. The lady claims to have a marriage certificate for which she has sent. She is stopping at Mrs. S. C. Barr's boarding house in Tyrone.

The News From Punxsutawney.

Punxsutawney, Pa., June 26.—The new men quartered at Anita were taken to the mine this morning without incident. No coal was mined, however. This afternoon two of the strikers got nearer to the company's property than the special police or guard though necessary. They were ordered to move on, but instead of doing so showed fight. The policeman drew his revolver and started towards them. The striker ran and the guard fired five shots at them without taking effect. The incident took place in full view of the Fifth regiment camp.

There is a meeting of miners in progress to night to hear the reports of delegates sent to the Altoona convention. It is probable that the miners will decide at this meeting whether they will return to work at the compromise offered by the operators or not. Local leaders are not in favor of resumption.

If the men accept the Bell, Lewis & Yates company's offer, the mines at Walston, Adrian, Elcanora, Beech Tree and Helvetia will start to work. Two-thirds of the strikers in this region are employed at the above mines.

A large number of soldiers are off duty and were in Punxsutawney to-day. Several arrests were made for disorderly conduct.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

Checked Stuffs: Checked Silk Waists Accessories: Yatching Skirts: Shade Hats.

The principal objection to checked materials is, their extremely ordinary appearance unless handsomely trimmed, this however does not apply to checked "sailor suits" with cutaway jackets, which are very stylish and newer than those of covert cloth. Black and white checks in silk or wool are really distingue but those in colors are often suggestive of a kitchen apron. A checked silk waist prettily ornamented by a colored velvet stock collar, velvet ribbon bows at the front, the elbows and at left side, is attractive without which it would be utterly commonplace, checked challies with plain borderings are light and cool for traveling or general wear, and the variety in evening shades, having white satin ribbon stripes sprinkled with floral designs, make far more desirable afternoon or evening dresses, than low priced silks, which are too flimsy to hang well.

A BLACK MOIRE SKIRT

is an excellent beginning for a summer's wardrobe, as all fancy waists harmonize with it, some having puffed chiffon vests over colored linngs, which are particularly pretty. Fancy velvet or satin collars, with a large double bow at the back or front, (never both) with a Rhine stone or jet buckle at the centre, are still very much in favor; immense rosettes or bows of colored silk illusion, are however the latest neck garniture, worn at the front with or without a collar, and will probably be carried to great extremes. A plain black dress is rendered stylish by fashionable neck wear, and constant variety is brought about by tasteful changes in collars ecru or black lace capes, many of which can be made by any one possessing ordinary skill. For example, a colored velvet bow at the throat, and a second a little lower down, with Rhine stone buckles at the centres, on a white lace cape, are very ornamental at a slight expense, and while these are only trifles, they go far toward making an attractive ensemble; therefore no lady in replenishing her toilet for the season, and who is a connoisseur in such matters fails to provide herself with a good supply of Murray & Lanman's Florida water—the old time favorite, so refreshing and delightful at all seasons of the year.

SERGE SUITS

are indispensable for yatching or tennis when the weather is damp, but for bright days, duck or pique will be preferred. White serge dresses, having colored adjustable collars are quite popular; at the same time blue serge costumes, with three narrow white serge bands on the skirt, with similar trimming on sleeves or pocket flaps and broad white revers, will stand much hard usage, and are consequently in demand. Crimson will always be worn by brunettes, but it is not so generally useful or so universally becoming as blue.

A NEAPOLITAN SHADE HAT

trimmed with daisies or field flowers and pink, white or green silk illusion rosettes is, for young girls the very acme of loveliness; stately Leghorns, chips or fancy rough straws being equally stylish but not so absolutely charming. The necessary touch of black is supplied by black birds or black illusion, and ivy leaves and berries are grouped with white or colored illusion lilacs, snow-balls or lace. White point d'sprit net or crape is largely employed both for linings, shirred crowns or twists and pink, white or pale blue mull hats, formed chiefly of accordion-plaited mull in bows or rosettes, enhance the charms of young persons; the middle-aged or elderly finding their usual refuge in navy blue or black.

VERONA CLARKE.

Lafayette College.

Lafayette College, at Easton, celebrated its fifty-ninth commencement on the 16-20th inst. and graduated a class of fifty members, equally divided between the Classical and Technical courses of study. The Senior Class Day, by the excellent choice of music and elaborate preparations attracted an assemblage of 2,000 persons.

Among the novelties not on the usual program of College occasions were a fantastic parade of the freshman in honor of their sailing safely into Sophomore seas and a dramatic representation by the Sophomore Class of the story of Pocahontas. The principal addresses were by Robert E. Speer, of New York City, on "The Heroism of Missions," Dr. John S. MacIntosh, of Philadelphia, on "Scotland's Story of Andrew Melville," and Walter C. Gilmore, of Williamsport, on "College Men and Politics." It is pleasing to note that seventeen of the students will be delegates to the Moody World's Bible Conference, at Northfield, on the 30th instant. The opening of the new athletic grounds, covering seven acres, and the receipt of a $5,000 legacy from Dr. Charles Elliott were noticeable as exponents of the constant growth of the College. President Warfield stated that the receipts from tuition had increased $3,000 per annum. The ladies of Easton gave a banquet to 250 graduates at the close of the commencement exercises, when it was announced that W. H. Keech, of Pittsburg, James R. Hogg, the carpet manufacturer of Philadelphia, E. J. Fox, of Easton, and Senator Griggs, of New Jersey, had ing honorary degrees were conferred:

Master of Arts on James R. Hogg, of the class of '78, Philadelphia and on Joseph A. McCurby, '83, lawyer, Greensburg.

Doctor of Philosophy on Prof. DeBenneville Keim Ludwig, principal of the Rittenhouse Academy, Philadelphia.

Doctor of Laws on Charlemagne Tower, member of the Pennsylvania Historical Society Philadelphia.

Doctor, of Divinity on Rev. James W. Gilland, of '77, Shamokin, pastor-elect of the Westminster Church, Brooklyn, N. Y on Rev. James Gray Bolton, '72, pastor of the Hope Church, Philadelphia, and on Rev. Harlan Gates Mendenhall, of '74, pastor of the Greene Avenue Church, Brooklyn, N. Y

Court Reform In New Jersey.

The New Jersey Constitutional Commission holds its fourth meeting to-day, and will consider the question of reconstructing the judicial system of the State. New Jersey's courts and court procedure are distinguished chiefly in being more English—or, in other words, more antiquated—than the progress of law reform has tolerated in most of the other States. The lay judge is a more dominant and intrusive figure in Jersey than in the few other places where he is still permitted to linger superfluous on the stage. The separate Court of Chancery is more pronounced in its separateness than in the few other States where that feature still survives. There has long been a feeling in the State that the judiciary article of their Constitution needed overhauling, and the Constitutional Commission now meeting once or twice a week in Trenton is especially charged with the duty of revising the legal and equitable jurisprudence of the State.

Ex-Judge Fort's proposition, which will be discussed today, contains what seems to us several decided improvements. It creates a court of last resort composed of Judges who are not members of other courts, except the Court of Pardons. The English custom which was inherited by this country, allowing posed of trial judges, has gradually appeals from trial Judges to courts comgrown into disfavor, and though it lingers in Federal practice and in some States is gradually falling into disuse. A Judge should not sit in review on his own errors, neither should he be the colleague and associate of the Judges before whom appeals from his rulings are argued. If a juror is disqualified by merely reading or hearing about a case and forming an opinion thereon, how much more is a Judge disqualified from having not only heard but adjudged the case? Yet until recently this evident disqualification of a Judge to sit on appeals from his own ruling has not been recognized. Even when a trial Judge is not allowed to sit in cases passed upon by him his membership of the appellate court and the fact that he reviews the decision of his associates predisposes the court to sustain him.

Another of the Fort proposition establishes circuit courts and abolishes the title of supreme court now given in New Jersey as in New York to courts which are not supreme. Calling a court whose judgment may be reviewed and reversed a supreme court is a source of confusion and error that ought not to be suffered. Both New York and New Jersey, now remodeling their Constitutions, should get rid of this anomaly and absurdity in the nomenclature in their courts.

FOSTER'S PREDICTIONS.

A Storm Wave Is to Cross the Continent from June 25 to 29.

ST. JOSEPH, MO., June 24.—My last bulletin gave forecast of the storm wave to cross the continent from June 25 to 29, and the next will reach the Pacific coast about the 29th, cross the western mountains by close of 30th, the great central valleys from July 1 to 3, and the eastern states about the 4th.

This is a danger period, but, as it is an earthquake date, the storms may be only moderate and the earthquakes great, or the storms may be great and the earthquake moderate. Seismic and atmospheric disturbance of more than ordinary force and of wide extent may be confidently looked for.

The warm wave preceeding and southeast of the low will develop extreme heat, and in the northern states the cool wave will cause a fall of 20° to 40°.

Of course earthquakes and tornadoes are expected only in countries where they are common.

The warm wave will cross the western mountains about the 29th, the great central valleys about July 1 and the eastern states about July 3. The cool wave will cross the western montains about July 2, the great central valleys about the 4th and the eastern states about the 6th.

The eastern states, lower lakes, upper Ohio valley and the east gulf states will probably have threatening weather, the great central valleys cool and clearing and the western mountains and Pacific coast from moderating to warm and threatening weather for the Fourth of July.

—The Coxey army at Washington is slowly but surely disbanding. One by one the misguided men are wondering home, being fully convinced that their mission to Washington was a failure. The other day one of the members of the army who tramped all the way to Washington from Detroit was furnished with sufficient funds to procure subetance enroute.

AT PUNXSUTAWNEY.

The Situation Not As Bad as Reported Among the Miners.

Punxsutawney, June 21.—Much indignation is manifested here to-night owing to a rumor, which has been afloat this afternoon, that Governor Pattison has ordered state troops to the Walston and Adrain mines. An indignation meeting was held by the citizens of Clayville tonight at which Sheriff Gourley, of this county and Governor Pattison was handled without gloves.

It is true that the foreign element at Walston and Adrain has been a little unruly the last few days, but every one familiar with the situation here knows that there is no cause for apprehension. United States Inspector Conkling visited Walston yesterday and to day in pursuance of his official duties, and he reports that everything is quiet and orderly.

He said to night: "I have been over the ground and fail to find any cause for alarm and I assert that if the sheriff would only show a little back bone everything would assume its usual quietness."

No rioting has occurred, but, should the Bell, Lewis & Yates company bring in new men, the foreign element, who constitutes nine-tenths of their old employes, are prepared to give them a warm reception. On last Sunday some persons told those people that "blacklegs" would be brought in to take their places this week. This unwelcome news aroused their anger and they immediately placed pickets at every point where men were likely to be brought in. They have even gone so far as to force the English speaking people of those places from their beds to do guard duty.

The sheriff is being censured and the opinion is that if he would only use his authority instead of putting in the most of his time with the company's officials, a great deal of trouble may be spared and thousands of dollars saved to the taxpayers of the state.

The English speaking miners are doing all that lies in their power to prevent an outbreak, and are meeting with success.

The miners of the Berwin-White company held a mass meeting and elected T. R. Davis and M. I. Percess delegates to attend the Altoona convention next Monday. They favor compromise, but declare that they will remain on strike all summer before accepting the proposition of the company to return to work at the old price.

The Berwin White company have about 220 men at work in their No. 1 and No. 6 mines at Horatio and have loaded forty-eight cars of coal during the past week. At this writing the militia have not arrived.

The President of France Murdured.

Paris, June 24.—Sadi Carnot, president of the republic, was stabbed at 9.15 o'clock this evening in Lyons, by Casrio Santo, an Italian anarchist, 21 years old.

President Carnot went to Lyons to visit the exhibition of arts, sciences and industries. He left the chamber of commerce banquet, given in his honor shortly after 9 o'clock and walked to his carriage, which was waiting in the Place de la Bourse. He had hardly taken his seat when Santo, a newspaper in his hand, pressed through the crowd and sprang upon the carriage seat. President Carnot startled slightly. Santo snatched a dagger from the newspaper and plunged it into the presidents abdomen near the liver. The president sank back unconscious. He was taken at once to the prefecture and the most skilful surgeons in the city were summoned. Mean time Santo was arrested.

The news spread swiftly to every part of the city. Infuriated crowds filled the streets. Before 10 o'clock an Italian restaurant had been sacked and the police were obliged to strain every nerve to protect the Italian consulate.

Latest From Walston.

Punxsutawney, June 21.—The situation at Walston is unchanged. The warlike Hungarians and Italians are in full posession and are moving things their own way. Yesterday miners who were hauling tan bark on the public road were forced to quit and every stranger who passes Walston must render an account of himself. The citizens are thoroughly disgusted at the high-handed attitude of the foreigners. It is reported here to-day that the pumps have been stopped at Walston and that the mines are being flooded. Eorty eight hours' cessation of the pumps would require at least six week's work to get the mine in condition again. Superintendent Snyder, of Walston, was notified by the Italians to leave or he would be killed and he left for Ohio to-day. No actual riot is anticipated unless an attempt is made to start the mines at Walston or Adrian, in which case a desperate fight is inevitable. The Berwin White people received about seventy new men this morning to work at their mines.

The Wheat Crop.

The crop report of the department of agriculture for the month of June has just been issued. It shows there is a slight decrease in the acreage of winter wheat as compared with 1893. The condition of the winter wheat has improved two points since the day report, being now 83.2 for the whole country. The average of the spring wheat is 88 per cent.

Spring wheat condition for the country is a few points higher than that of the winter variety. The reduction of the area devoted to this crop is considerable, and is caused principally by low prices, although to the unfavorable seeding conditions in a few localities and the abandoment of some areas on account of the encroachment of the Russian thistle in others may be ascribed some part of the diminution.

The condition of the oats, rye and barley crops is fairly good, but all show a slight decline as compared with the season of 1893.

Reports from the western countries of this state give the intelligence that hay, wheat and rye crops are reported to be in fine condition. Oats are doing fairly, but corn and fruit are in bad shape The long continued cold weather during May and a part of June held back the corn and blighted the fruit. It seems likely that the farmer will sow a great deal of buckwheat.

The Biggest Fool.

The following is a fable taken from Kate Field's Washington. Mis Field is supposed to have studied the marriage question thoroughly and then concluded to remain single. Coming from such a source this fable has all the more force:

"Once upon a time there were three fools; a great big fool, a middle-sized fool and a tiny little bit of a fool. These three were women contemplating marriage with men whose paths were crooked.

"The woman who was a little bit of a fool married a man who drank. Her friends warned her, naturally, and the general public prophesied, but she risked it. Then began the official programme: cheerful home, good meals, fragrant coffee, bright open fires; after that there was a gold cure, and in the end he was reclaimed. He was, really. Moreover he stayed so.

"The middle-sized fool married a man whose tastes was not so much for wine as for women and song. He liked them best as combined in light opera. It requires a woman of great sweetness of temper and infinite tact to manage a man of this kind; but she did it, and in time he, too, reformed. The road was a weary one for her, however.

"But the great big fool married a man who was a gambler. He was a foreign person, having a local habitation deeply mortgaged, and a name. And the rest of this chapter is very brief and not especially cheerful. It is this: The gennine gambler never reforms."

A Destructive Storm.

Huntingdon, Pa., June 24.—The damage done by the wind and rain storm in Shavers' Creek valley last night is said to have been very great. Whole orchards were destroyed, and many farmers will lose fields of wheat that were about ready to harvest.

In Petersburg it will require several thousand dollars to repair the damage to property. The steeple on the First Methodist Episcopal church as low as the second story was blown down, as was also a portion of the roof on the same building. A considerable portion of the roof on the Presbyterian church was carried from its fastenings and hurled against the residence of Mr. S. K. Wharton, with the result that the latter building was badly damaged. The covered country bridge just out side the limits of Petersburg was among the structures destroyed. It was broken in two and blown off the abutments into the stream.

It is generally believed that the damage in the upper end of the valley is very great, but as yet nothing has been heard from that section.

The Gold Reserve.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The treasury gold reserve today at the close of business stood at $64,127,969, $1,500,000 less than the low water mark reached in the gold reserve before it was built up by the fifty million bond issue. It was stated in an unofficial way that the New York banks would supply gold for the continued export movement. Up to the close of business at the treasury department but $400,000 of the $3,250,000 exported during today and yesterday has been supplied by banks. The fact that the gold reserve being at the lowest point in its history causes no uneasiness in the treasury department, which is well supplied with currency to meet all maturing obligations for months to come.

Moonshiners Raided.

Bluefield, W. Va., June 22.—The most important capture of moonshiners ever made in Mercer county took place yesterday. Deputy United States Marshal Herman and a posse made a raid on the Ferguson and McBride band and arrested five men. Five others escaped in the mountains. The officers took possession of the still and a large quantity of moonshine whisky and raw material.

The men arrested are the Fergusons, McBride, Dod and Smead. They have been doing a big business in illicit whisky, and have peddlers all over this region. The officers have been aware of their operations for more than a year, but were never able to locate the still until a few days ago.

BOY WHIPPED TO DEATH.

Plummer Had a Grudge Against Young Richardson and Once Buried Him Alive—An Attrocious Murder.

Mount Holly, N. J., June 21.—The little village of Kettle Run, a small settlement near Marlton, was the scene of a peculiarly atrocious murder on Monday. Sidney Plummer, a colored man, 56 years old, and Harry Richardson, a colored boy, were both employed on the farm of William Hays. The latter is engaged in business in Philadelphia and comes home only about twice a month. Plummer acted as manager of the farm during his absence.

He had a grudge against the boy, alleging that he had told the neighbors stories against him. He often whipped the boy. A singular story is also told to the effect that he once buried him in the ground until only his head was exposed, and then threatened to brain him with a hoe because he wouldn't keep a still tongue in his head.

On Monday he got angry with the boy for losing a hoe and ordered him to go to the barn and await his coming. He then went to the woods and cut several whips, which he bound together. He returned to the barn and ordered the boy to remove his clothing. On his refusal to do so, he stripped him to the skin and then beat him until he fell lifeless. He then picked up the body, carried it to a creek and threw it into the water. The water was too shallow to hide the body, so he afterward carried it on his back to the barn and covered it over with canvas. Then he went to the telegraph office and sent word to Mr. Haws that the boy was dead. After this he notified the coroner, and by him was placed under arrest.

He admitted having beaten the boy, but said the boy had afterwards drowned himself. The coroner's inquest was held yesterday at Marlton. After the postmortem had been made, Dr. Melcher testified that there was no water in the boy's lungs and that the boy had been beaten to death. His body was covered with cuts and bruises. The direct cause of death was concussion of the brain Mrs. Hay testified that she knew nothing of the crime except that Plummer had told her the boy was dead and that if she would say he had drowned himself there would nothing come of it. This she had refused to do

The jury found that Richardsom had come to his death by violence inflicted by Plummer. The latter was lodged in jail here last night. He is a married man and has a family living in Camden.

They Were Bad Boys.

The Tyrone Herald of Friday contained the following, which needs no further comment:

Conductor L. A. Haupt was given no little trouble on the valley train coming from Bellefonte last evening. Two girls whose conduct indicated unsavoriness of reputation, and two young bloods belonging to Co. B, held high carnival in one of the coaches. They behaved so badly that the conductor was obliged to separate them by driving them back into the car to which they belonged, that respectable people might not be grossly offended.

One of the members of Co. B, Bellefonte and a girl, presumably from the same town, made an undignified exhibition of themselves here last evening by trading headgear and parading Pennsylvania avenue, acting like "Silly Billy and his sister Sue."

Twenty-Four Persons Drowned.

New York, June 24—The tug James D. Nichol having on board the Herring Fishing club, of this city, seventy four persons in all, foundered two miles off the highlands at 12.50 o'clock this afternoon. As near as can be learned fifty persons were saved by the steamer Algonquin and a tug, which happened to be in the vicinity at the time. The remainder of the party, numbering twenty four persons were drowned. The tug was probably overcrowded, as before she went down she appeared to the signal officer at the high lands to be topheavy and was rolling heavily.

Will Come Back.

San Francisco, June 24.—A. L. Davis, an absconding agent of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, who is wanted at Altoona, Pa., was arrested yesterday morning. He had been agent at Altoona for the company, and about two months ago absconded with $3,000 of the company's funds. Davis confessed his crime and said he would return to Altoona without resistance.

Prof. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED Pastille

Has been put up in a proprietary form since 1878, and has been used for years prior to that time in private practice. It is no untried nostrum, of doubtful reputation, but a genuine specific for a very prevalent disease. Thousands of men, of all ages, have at some time in life brought on nervous debility and exhaustion, with organic weakness, by over brain work, excesses, too frequent indulgence or indiscretion and vicious habits, and it is to these that we offer a remedy that will, by its direct action upon the seat of the disease, stop the drain and restore the patient to vigorous health and strength.

Our method of introducing Prof. Harris' Pastille treatment is one which commends itself to all sensible persons—for the reason that we supply it upon their judgment of its value. We ask of our patrons nothing in the way of expense beyond a postal card and a two cent postage stamp. The postal card to be used in sending us their full address and the postage stamp for the letter returning the statement of their case for which we supply them with a question blank, to be filled out, and an envelope addressed to ourselves for use in returning it when filled.

FREE TRIAL PACKAGE. When we receive the statement on blank we prepare eight days' treatment and forward it by mail and prepay postage thereon—and along with the eight days' treatment we send full directions for using. The treatment in no way interferes with a person's attention to business, and causes no pain or inconvenience in any way.

We are so positive that it will give perfect satisfaction that we leave the matter of sending orders entirely with those using the free trial treatment. Having satisfied those sending for trial packages of our ability to benefit their sexual condition we feel that they are more largely interested than ourselves in continuing the use of the Pastilles. Even then we do not attempt to rob them by demanding high prices. On the contrary, we make the prices as low as possible, and the same to all. They are as follows: $3 for one month; $5 for two months; $7 for three months.

These prices secure the delivery of the Pastilles by mail. If desired by express we leave the patient to pay the charges. For over ten years we have operated our business upon this plan with satisfactory results.

We ask all persons needing treatment for any of the secret ills which come to mankind through a violation of nature's laws to send us their address on postal card or by letter and allow us to convince them that PROF. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED PASTILLES have merit and are what they need.

CAPE MAY.

A New Railroad To America's Oldest Watering Place.

Historically, and in point of natural advantages and attractiveness, Cape May is the most important seaside resort in the United States. Its career as a sanitarium and pleasureing place dates back to the closing years of the last century, and, until a comparatively recent period, it was virtually without a rival—even Long Branch, in its palmiest days, conceding its superior prestige. For many decades prior to the Civil War it was regarded as the summer capital of the nation, and upon its broad beach were gathered each summer the great political and social notabilities of the country, the intellect and the beauty of the North and the South. In the more immediate past it has been comparatively unheard of a fact due partially to the inherent conservatism which has always distinguished it, but more largely to the distraction of popular attention to newer and more vociferously "boomed" resorts along the coast.

Now, however, it is believed that Cape May is about to resume its ancient prestige and reassert its proud eminence among seaside watering-places. This revivification of the grand old resort is anticipated as a direct result of the increased and improved railway facilities which will be supplied by the new South Jersey Railroad, just being completed, and we may expect to hear a great deal of Cape May during the summer.

The South Jersey Railroad extends from Winslow Junction, on the Reading Railroad's Atlantic City line, to Cape May, with branches to Sea Isle City, Ocean City, Avalon, Wildwood and other resorts. It has been in operation to Sea Isle City for nearly a year, and will be opened to Cape May on Saturday, June 23d, the remaining points to be reached later in the year. The new line to Cape May is described as "straight as a string and level as a table" substantially constructed, with a view to the highest speeds, and materially shorter than any other road to the Cape. The equipmennt is all new. Hard-coal locomotives, of the speediest type, and cars of novel and remarkably elegant construction will compose the flying express trains, and it is promised that a very considerable shortening of the time will be effected. The Philadelphia stations of the new road are the Reading Railroad ferries, at Chestnut street and South Street wharves and through tickets to Cape May by the South Jersey Railroad route will be sold at the principal stations of the Reading, Baltimore & Ohio, and New Jersey Central Railroads.

Crossing the Atlantic

Usually involves sea sickness. When the waves play pitch and toss with you, strong indeed must be the stomach that can stand it without revolting. Tourists, commercial travelers, yauchtsmen, mariners, all testify that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the best remedy for the nausea experienced in rough weather on the water. Nervous and weakly travelers by land often suffer from something akin to this, and find in the Bitters its surest remedy. No disorder of the stomach, liver or bowels is so obstinate that it may not be overcome. Equally efficacious is it for chills and fever, kidney and rheumatic trouble and nervousness. Emigrants to the frontier should provide themselves with this fine medicinal safeguard against the effects of vicissitudes of climate, hardship, exposure and fatigue.

Tact.

One of the most useful qualities in human nature is tact. In every sphere of of life tact is one of the master powers that win victories in social circles, in business affairs, and governmental operations. The lack of tact has probably caused more annoyance in all communities than any other thing. Nearly all the trouble that arises in the industrial world comes from the lack of tact. This is seen every day in the management of workshops, business houses and public institutions. Lack of tact on the part of employer and employee—foreman and workman—superintendent and those of less authority—cause no end of trouble. The want of tact is at the bottom of nearly all the strikes and riots that are so disastrous in industrial circles. Many persons when raised into stations above their fellows are fond of displaying their power on every possible occasion—of showing that they are superior beings, that others should fall down and worship, and the smaller minded they may be the stronger their dispositions to make such exhibitions of themselves, and the greater antagonism they create between the two. This is manifested by offensive orders, petty acts of tyranny, needless fault-finding, contemptuous language, unfairness, atc., acts in and of themselves of not much account, but put together from day to day are calculated to create ill feeling on both sides and rebellion on the part of the oppressed. Then again there is lack of tact in not giving praise and credit for work well done, but often on the contrary trying to make it appear that all the credit belongs to the head and not to those of whom it rightly belongs. These are a few of the things which cause so much unhappiness in this work-a-day world, and which might be avoided as well as not. It is in these little things that antagonisms and enmities arise among men, and are great drawbacks to the business in which they are or should be mutually interested. When there is harmony at both ends of the line—between those at the ranks and work-benches and master at the desk—the true sympathy there should be between the top and the bottom of the column—there will be no serious trouble. When the rights, privileges and feelings of all are considered, the interests and happiness of all will be conserved, and just here is where tact comes into lay on the part of all concerned.—The Advance.

Cannot Do it by Legislation.

The prolonged coal strike has again brought on the old familiar discussion about the settlement of deputes involved in strikes. It turns, as all such discussions have turned, on the question of arbitration There are a great many people who always insist that arbitration is the only remedy.

It has always proved very delusive in the past. Pennsylvania now has two laws on her statute books providing a means of arbitration. One of them, that prepared and urged to its passage by Wm. A. Wallace when he was last a member of the Senate, was devised with very great care and consideration. For a time there was more or less inclination to think this act might prove of some service, but it never has accomplished anything, and is now practically forgotten. At the last session of the Legislature another arbitration act was passed, but it can never amount to anything, as must have been pretty well understood at the time of its enactment

One of the most intelligent of our contemporaries thinks that something like the State Board of Arbitration in New York could be made useful, and it hopes to see the next Legislature provide for such a board. As a matter of fact the New York plan has proven as much a of failure as any and the arbitrators, although created under the authority of the State, have experienced the humiliation of having their services contemptuously refused when offered, and to be told to attend to their own affairs. There was no remedy for this. Neither party to a labor controversy, no matter what the controversy is about, is compelled to accept the services of these official arbitrators, and that makes them really of no more account than so many private citizens.

That is the whole difficulty about trying to provide for arbitration by legislation. Disputes between employers and employees, no matter to what extent they may affect the public, are really private matters with which the public cannot presume to interfere, either officially or otherwise. If both parties are willing to arbitrate they can proceed without the need of any law or the use of public machinery. They can select their own arbitrators and proceed in whatever way they like, regardless of any existing arbitration act If one party or the other declines to arbitrate the law cannot compel it to accept arbitration. It cannot be enforced, and that makes all laws on the subject failures.

No doubt a good many of the disagreements about wages or work which lead to strikes might be settled by arbitration, and it would be a very excellent thing to have that method tried as often as possible. It is worth encouraging, but as it must be entirely voluntary, it is not improbable that attempts to legislate upon it have an effect rather more injurious than beneficial.

Kindergarten System.

It is said that the next legislature will be asked to enact a law making the kindergarten system of teaching in the public school compulsory. This was talked of during the last legislature, but in consideration of the multiplicity of school matters that came before the committee on education it got lost in the shuffle. It would be a popular thing to adopt, and it would be the means of educating the little folks early in life as to shape and form and the cultivation of the beautiful. It is in the tender years of a child's life that anything taught makes the greatest impression, and for this reason, over all others, the beauty of the kindergarten system ought to be introduced into the public schools. It may be difficult to obtain teachers, but they can be secured sometime.

The Judge was Moved.

"There was a good joke played on Judge Dundy, of the United States court, at Omaha, several Years ago. It makes me laugh every time I see the Judge's name in print," said Thomas A. Weaver last night.

"Judge Dundy is quite tender-hearted and dreads to send a married man to jail. Well, there was a man on trial for passing counterfeit money. He was a single man and the case against him was quite strong. Judge Baldwin was defending him, and seeing that the case was hopeless, Baldwin decided to take advantage of Judge Dundy's weakness.

He hunted up an old lady who had five children, ranging from 8 years to 8 months old, and had her impersonate the supposed wife and children of the prisoner. All through the trial they sat, often weeping. The man was found guilty. Three days later, when the prisoner was brought up to be sentenced, the woman and children were brought in and Judge Baldwin, who is very dramatic, made a plea for the man and his family of little ones, who would suffer if the father was sent to prison. Baldwin wept, the court wept, the prisoner pretended to weep, as did the women and children. When the court had wiped away the tears he talked severely to the man and then gave him one day in jail and $10 fine. Later on, when he learned how he had been deceived, he became so angry that it was weeks before he would speak to Judge Baldwin. When the joke got out everyone twitted court. After that the sight of a handkerchief applied to the eyes in Judge Dundy's court was liable to get the prisoner ten years.

Estimated Cost of the Strike.

Estimates as to the cost of the coal strike are that the operators of Pennsylvania alone have thus far lost $1.500,000, the miners lost $500,000 in wages and the railroads $1,500,000 in freights. The losses to industries compelled to shut down, to general business and to men and women employed in many ways before the shortage of fuel but now idle, are incalculable.

$5, $10 and $20, Genuine Confederate Bills only five cents each; $50 and $100 bills ten cents each: 25c and 50c shinplasters ten cents each; $1 and $2 bills 25 cents each. Sent securely sealed on receipt of price. Address, CHAS. D. BARKER. 90 S. Forsyth St., Atlanta, Ga. 22 tf

FROM WALSTON.

The Situation as It Looks to a Sheridan Trooper.

Walston, Pa., June 25.—When troops were first ordered to Punxsutawney reports were afloat that between twenty and thirty persons had been killed in a conflict between the miners and "scabs," as they are called by striking miners, referring to persons who might take the places of the miners who refuse to work. This, as well as other exaggerated newspaper reports were unfounded the truth was obscured by the sensational which is calculated to increase the sale of papers.

When the troops reached the city preparations were made to invade the so reported invested territory, but the Dagos had fled from their works and the only trophy of victory was a couple of cannon made of cast iron pipe encased in logs. Everything became very quiet and has so continued; more so, it is said, than for several years, so stated by citizens living here, who say that scarcely a night passed in which there has not been trouble of different kinds among the miners.

The Sixteenth regiment and Sheridan troops are encamped at Walston, two miles north of Punxsutawney, while the Fifth regiment is at Adrian, three miles east of the city.

The town of Walston is very largely of foreign element, with a population of 2,500 or 3,000. About 800 of these are miners of which it is said not more than sixty or seventy are resident natives. It seems that the operators have been induced to employ foreign labor because they are willing to live largely from the county storehouses. The American miners are not willing to do this and therefore have not so largely been employed. As a consequence the foreign miners are largely in the majority. The price of digging has been 35 cents per ton and could they have worked steadily fair wages could have been made. But the large number of miners and the small demand for coal required the operators to set a limit to each day's work. By this means the men were given employment part of the time, and they at last united in a strike. The mines and coke ovens are all inactive, and while some persons are reduced to poverty others have money past them that they can use if they want to do so.

The trouble in this locality has arisen from a determination on the part of the strikers to prevent the employment of scabs and in attempting this they attacked a train some days ago on which they supposed were men to fill the mines, but it proved that they were mistaken. At another time the trainmen on the Pennsylvania and Northwestern railway were stoned for hauling scab coal. These events necessitated the calling on state troops for protection of property, which no doubt would have suffered destruction had this not been done. Many of the occupants of company houses have been notified to leave if they do not choose to go to work. This is to take effect on Thursday of this week at which time something is likely to be effected in the way of starting the mines. Just how long the troops will remain is not known, but from preparations that are being made it is probable that they will remain several days. No conflict has taken place between soldiers and miners nor is there likely to be. While there seems to be no other way of settling disputes like these it will provoke the discussion of the immigration question and the root of the evil will be gotten at finally. The operators see that they have erred in employing so many foreign laborers who have largely caused the present trouble. It will be remembered also that the expense incurred is paid by citizens who have in no way been responsible for the trouble.

Won Twenty-five Prizes.

New York, June 25.—A private cablegram received in this city today announces that Gus. S. Zimmerman, the champion rifle shot of the New York Independent Schuetzen association, won twenty-five prizes during the International shoot at Mayence, last week.

Attempt to Destroy a Bridge.

Connellsville, June 25.—Striking coke workers attempted to destroy the Possum Run railroad bridge on this outskirts of New Haven last night with dynamite. The explosive was placed against the abutments of the bridge and did considerable damage to the heavy masonry. The road is a branch of the Southwest Pennsylvania railroad, over which the coke from the Trotter works, recently put in operation, is transported to market.

Visited by a Crank.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 25.—A female crank visited General Harrison today at his house, but owing to the presence of mind of Private Secretary Tibbotts she was not permitted to see the ex-president. Mr. Tibbotts happened to answer the door bell and found a young woman, having the appearance of an Indian maiden and wearing her long, black hair down over her shoulders. She had a bible and a copy of gospel hymns in her hand. She asked for General Harrison, saying that she had a message of great importance for him.

She further said that the Democrats was driving the country to ruin and it was the duty of hereself and President Harrison jointly to save it. She wanted the general to help recover a large sum of money due her. She gave the name of Louisa Hudson. Mr. Tibbotts asked her to a seat in the parlor and then telephoned to the police. The detectives were detailed to the case and she was detained in conversation until they could arrive. When their purpose was made known to her she became very violent and threatened dire vengeance upon her persecutors and to burn the town. She told the police matron that she was the wife of Christ and gave other evidence of a badly disordered mind. From her books it seemed she formerly lived in Paris or Nashville, Tenn.

President Carnot's Funeral.

Paris, June 25.—President Carnot's body was taken to Paris an a special train this afternoon. The grand salon in the Elysee Palace has been transformed into a funeral chamber. A military guard will be on duty in the chamber until the funeral which will probably take place on Friday.

The rulers of all civilized countries have sent telegrams expressing to Madam Carnot their sympathy and sorrow. The concert halls are closed and the races have been postponed.

In all places frequented by politicians the succession to the presidency is discussed constantly.

Casimer-Periers chances seem to improve steadily. This evening he is a more conspicuous favorite than ever.

To Tell a Horse's Age.

An exchange says: "It is the popular opinion among most people that the age of a horse can easily be determined by examining his teeth. This method will work all right until the horse reaches his eighth year, but after that he gets no more new teeth, and that means of telling his age becomes useless. When a horse reaches that period where his teeth stop growing, a sort of fold or wrinkle becomes visible on the upper edge of the lower eye lid, and a new fold forms each succeeding year of his life, so that in that way his age can be easily determined, no matter how far advanced in years he may be.

$5 Worth of Hood's Sarsaparilla

Severe Case of Nicotine Poisoning.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen:—I write these lines to certify that Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured me of a most painful disease from which I have suffered the past four years. It appeared in the form of eruptions on my neck and face, spreading over my body, so painful that I could not sleep at night, and could not work in the day time, and when I did lay down and get into a little doze, if I would move just a little, it would start that terrible sensation, and from the eruptions on my legs and body. I had to wear bandages all the time. My eyes were badly swollen, my back in terrible condition. One physician said it was weed poison, another eczema, and the last told me it was and that I would have to go to a physician who made a speciality of my disease. (I omitted to say that I am a cigar maker by trade.) But Hood's Sarsaparilla had been recommended, and I thought I would try it, and I am heartily thankful that I did, I can truly say that Hood's Sarsaparilla has effected

NINE WEEKS' WORK.

Superior Court Judge Smith Completely Knocks It Out.

Judge Rufus B. Smith, of the Superior Court, yesterday morning handed down his decision in the case of the Walker Paint Company against the Anchor White Lead Company.

The case, which was closed some ten days ago, lasted nine weeks, and testimony was offered from various parts of the country, while some of the heaviest legal pounding done in the court house for a good long time was that indulged in by the attorneys on both sides of the important suit. Judge Smith dismisses the petition of the plaintiff. The Walker Paint Company sued the Anchor White Lead Company and the Eckstein White Lead Company in August, 1891, claiming that the defendants were using false analyses of the plaintiff's goods; that the plaintiff did not use barytes in its alleged pure oxidized white lead, and that the defendants were issuing circulars containing chemists' analyses showing the goods of the plaintiff to be adulterated with barytes. Action was brought for an injunction and $50,000 damages. Judge Smith was rather severe in his remarks. His decision will attract widespread attention, in view of the fact that the case involves much more than shown on the face of the petition. The attorneys in the case were: Plaintiff, Jos. B. Foraker, Charles Prior, Frank H. Kinney, Drausin Wulsin, and Frank O. Suire, for the Anchor White Lead Company, and Elliott H. Pendleon for the Eckstein White Lead Company. Judge Smith gave judgment for the defendants and dismissed the plaintiff's petition.

The gist of the Court's decision is expressed as follows:

JUDGE SMITH'S DECISION.

"In the length of time which this case has taken, ten weeks is the stupendous proportions which the record has reached by reason of the volume of testimony, depositions and exhibits, in the absolute contradiction in many parts of the testimony, and in the sensational surprise which resulted from the testimony of two of the witnesses, and in zeal, perseverance and apparent conviction of the respective counsel in the justice of their cause, the case which may justifiably be characterized as extraordinary. The defendants admitted that they had published the analysis complained of, and their principal ground of defense was that the statements contained in the analysis were true, and that the plaintiffs, as manufacturers of white lead, under the different brands, had during the years 1889 and 1890 notwithstanding their statements to the contrary, used barytes as an adulterant. The defendants further claimed that having numerous analysis made of the product of the plaintiff, all of which showed the presence of this adulterant, they were justified in publishing these analyses for the purpose of informing the trade and public generally of the fact that the plaintiff's goods were adulterated. Nearly fifty different analyses were introduced in evidence on both sides, and in those made of goods manufactured prior to August, 1891, the presence of barytes as an adulterant was almost invariably shown. The plaintiffs attempted to establish, by the testimony of its officers and three of its employes, that no adulterant had ever been put in its goods, but the Court finds that the analyses show conclusively that such was not the fact.

THE GOODS WERE NOT ADULTERATED.

"The Court finds that the claim of the plaintiff that the defendants tampered with or caused to be adulterated any of the kegs of the plaintiff's goods is wholly unfounded and unsupported by any evidence worthy of belief. The Court further finds that the testimony of Alex Matthews is entitled to no credit whatever, and that the testimony of William B. Burke was as deliberate a case of perjury as has ever been attempted in a court. The Court further finds after excluding from its consideration a number of the analyses, not because there is any question as to their correctness, but as it is unnecessary to follow them, that the evidence shows that the plaintiff did adulterate its goods in the years 1889-1890, as shown by the analyses made by the different chemists which the defendants caused to be published and circulated. Judge Smith, in concluding his written opinion of a very lengthy written document, says:

"In conclusion, my finding is that by a clear preponderance of the evidence the defendants have established, and to my mind beyond all reasonable doubt they have proven, that during the years 1889 and 1890 when the analyses complained of in the petition were made, that the plaintiffs were sending out goods at first class which were adulterated with barytes; that the analyses complained of in the petition are true, and that the petition should be dismissed upon that ground. It is therefore unnecessary that I should consider the other defense made by the defendants." The decision, owing to the prominence of the parties involved, is of international importance and interest.—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, May 29.

The Situation at Punxy.

Punxsutawney, Pa., June 25.—Members of the National Guard are running the pumps at Adrian to supply their camp with water. The citizens are holding an indignation meeting in consequence to night, claiming that the guards have no right to run the pumps, for they are supplying water to camp they are also pumping out water that accumulates in the mines. There is said to be a spring in the camp and a well not far distrnt. In an effort this morning to arrest a man who had been endeavoring to converse with the new men at Anita, a scuffle ensued in which the man received a bayonet thurst in the neck. Warrants were sworn out against Thomas E. Clark and four deputies and they will be arrested in the morning.

THE MINERS' CONVENTION.

The Compromise Rate of 40 Cents Per Ton Was Adopted.

In the Carpenters and Joiners' hall third story of the Couch block, Eleventh avenue and Thirteenth street, Altoona, there was in session Monday afternoon and night the convention of the delegates representing the miners from this district. During the afternoon National President McBride, of Columbus, O., was present, as he was also during a portion of the evening. The afternoon was passed in the appointment of the various committees and the discussion of other matters. Shortly before 6 o'clock the convention adjourned for supper and reconvened at 7.30. There were present seventy-three delegates.

The evening session continued until nearly midnight and at times was very animated. District President Bradley was in the chair and the minutes were kept by District Secretary T. R. Davis. The discussion on the following resolution was a long and heated one, but the motion to adopt finally carried:

Resolved, That those operators who are willing to pay the compromise price will be permitted to resume work.

The compromise price is 40 cents net and 45 cents gross. During the afternoon a message was received from Operators Bell, Lewis & Yates stating their offer to start up at this price was still good if it was accepted immediately.

In the passage of the above resolution it was also understood that the miners were to have a right to buy where they pleased, to place checkweighmen on the tipples, and further that there is to be no discrimination against the men who were active in the strike.

The convention adjourned to meet at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning when a number of resolutions will come up for consideration.

Word was received in this city last evening that the miners at West Moshannon did not go to work yesterday morning, but were waiting for the result of the Altoona convention. This is one of the United Mine Collieries, the owners of which offered fifty cents per ton last week.

A Great Timber Belt.

Much has been said about the timber tracts of Pennsylvania, but there is a belt in California that many of our lumbermen would give a good bit if they were the posessors of it. This tract is in Humbolt and Mendocino counties. It embraces 4,125 square miles, containing 133,000,000 feet of timber. With the aid of microscope scientists have found the age of some of these trees to be nearly 3,000 years. Some of the fallen trees have remained where they fell for 800 to 1,000 years, so it is estimated, with scarcely any deterioration of the wood.

Good News From Houtzdale.

Houtzdale, Pa., June 26.—The miners at the West Moshannon mines did not start Monday morning nor Tuesday morning for several reasons. On Monday morning the mines were not yet in condition to resume operations and the men desired to wait the ontcome of the Altoona conference. The same was true of Tuesday morning.

To-morrow (Wednesday) morning the Mt. Vernon mines will start at fifty cents per ton (gross), and all the rest of the operators, with the exception of the Berwind White Coal Mining company, will resume operations this week at the compromise price of 45 cents per ton (gross.)

Several of the smaller operators are hoping that the Berwin White company will not start, as this will give them a chance to sell their coal at good prices. Everybody seems more cheerful and business already shows signs of improving. The commisary will still continue to furnish provisions to families needing them.

Cambria County Farmers.

Ebensburg, June 26.—The second annual farmers' institute of Cambria county met in the court house of this place and will continue for two days. There is a large attendance and the lecturers predict this meeting of the farmers will be one of the largest and most profitable ever held in this state. Gen. Hastings and Col. Spangler, of Bellefonte, will take an active part in the exercises to-morrow. Hon. J. J. Thomas, of Carrolltown, who has charge of the institutes held in this part of the state, arrived in town yesterday, and opened the meeting this afternoon with an able address, in which he explained the benefit to farmers by such meetings. The town is gayly decorated; and the attendance is constantly growing larger. A large street parade will take place this evening, followed by another meeting in the court house.

KILLED BY A TRAIN.

A Little Girl and Her Brother Meet a Horrible Death on a New Jersey Road.

Millville, N. J., June 26.—The most unfortunate accident that has occurred near here for years took place yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, half a mile from South Vineland station. As the southbound Cape May mail train was drawing near South Vineland station Engineer Hand saw two objects on the track ahead, but thought they were nothing but paper. The train was going at a forty mile gait and he knew no difference until he saw a human head fly up. He instantly reversed his engine and applied the brakes to stop the train.

On investigation it was found that he had instantly killed two children, a boy and a girl, twins, 21 months of age, the children of Charles T. Buck, who lives on the bouleyard close to the railroad. The children had wandered away from home and were playing on the track, and at the time the engine struck them they were playing in the middle of the track. The girl was struck and killed instantly, her head, arms and feet being severed from the body. The boy was thrown fifty feet and when picked up was just alive and died in his mother's arms. The girl's body was horribly mangled.

The parents became frantic with grief on learning of their misfortune and were with difficulty restrained from putting an end to their lives. The train was in charge of Conductor H. Matthews and Engineer James Hand.

Hand's engine struck the father of these children about two months ago and demolished his wagon and narrowly escaped killing him. He also struck and killed Albert Lincain a short time ago and has been tried at other times for manslaughter but escaped conviction in each case. Coroner Sawyer has been summoned and will hold an inquest to-day.

Engineer Hand took his train on down to Cape May and his explanation cannot be learned until the coroner's inquest today. His having killed several persons before, however, will, no doubt, make the case go somewhat against him.

Palliser, Palliser & Co., of Bridgeport, Conn., who are well known European Architects and came to this country some few years ago, since which time they have furnished thousands of designs, plans and specifications dwellings and every description of buildings erected in every State and Territory in the Union, Canadas and Brazil, and by their abillty as designers and practical constructors have wrought wonderful improvements in the style of buildings everywhere during the past five years—have prepared and published Specifications for Frame or Brick Buildings costing $500 to $5,000 and upwards, which are invaluable to Builders, and those who design building, as by their use they will save hundreds of pages in writing and copying, in fact, they are the first example within our knowledge of a complete, full and practical blank for every day use and a great advantage to every one over the usual method of writing out Specifications, which are too often inexplicit and dangerously general, entailing extras for which there is no excuse but the ambiguity of the description:—and it is high but deserved praise to say, that with the proper amount of additional matter to suit the peculiarities of particular buildings, for which ample spaces are left, such Specifications can easily be made as thorough and full as the most scrupulous person need desire. The whole work shows throughout the hand of thoroughly experienced Architects, and not only experienced in a certain class of work, but in a great variety of processes and modes of finishing. In the department of plumbing and sanitary matters we are glad to see details embodying the design of thorough work: every particular being so arranged as to insure the dispersion out of harms way all sewer gas or noxious emanations.

Price, 35 cents per set, 22 pages 9 x 14, bound for pocket use, or $3 a dozen.

Forms of Building Contract with Bond are also included, which can be had separately at 5 cents each, or 40 cents a dozen, which are perfect in all particulars, thoroughly tested for years. Be sure and have a right Specification and Building Contract, poor ones cause trouble and sometimes cause an expense of $500 to $1,000 in law.

For sale by all Booksellers and stationers and also by the Publishers, who will in a few months time move to New York City.

The Battle of Chancellorsville.

The fierce fighting for three days of two armies, with 200,000 men, where strange surprises and big blunders gave the weaker the victory, proved of supreme importance. The story has never been fully told until this year, when the combined contributions of over 100 participants, on both sides have furnished a truthful narrative of more thrilling interest to read than any romance. The 11th corps is completely vindicated, and the blame fastened, by overwhelming proof, on its commander. The 3rd and 12th corps' glorious deeds are most eloquently recorded. Also the description of the night battle of Saturday, May 2nd, 1863, which was the grandest pyrothentic pageantry of all time. A splendid gem of eloquence for reading recitation. Confederate valor and generalship receive, as deserved, high commendation.

The same book has well written histories of the three great battles of Fredricksburg, Spottsylvania and The Wilderness. In these four battles over 100,000 men were killed and wounded.

General Longstreet contributed an original article. Undoubtedly the best headquarters authority on the battle is H. M. Kellogg, (55th Ohio). He says: "No history of Chancellorsville can compare with this."

The book is the size of Century Magazine, with 40 illustrations, (16 maps) and is mailed for 25 cents, (bound in cloth $1), by The Acme Haversack, Syracuse, N. Y.

The state of Pennsylvania had 91 commands in the Chancellorsville battle whose losses were 4,374 men.

The best newspaper is always the CHEAPEST. That the Pittsburg Dispatch is the best newspaper between New York and Chicago, everybody knows. 25 4t

Scribners Magazine for July opens with a descriptive article on the social aspects of that region along the Massachusetts Coast known as "The North Shore." It extends from Nahant to Cape Ann, and as the author of this article, Robert Grant says: "It is a very pretty place to which Bostonians who wish to keep cool and yet be able to see the gilded dome of the Statehouse, through the telescope, hie themselves June to October." Mr Grant is thoroughly familiar with this whole region and he describes the varied life of it—the yatching, the hunt clubs, and the social functions—with all that vivacity and keen appreciation which might be expected from the author of "The Reflections of a Married Man." The illustrations were made by W. T. Smedley from actual sketches along the North Shore. There will be similar social studies in succeeding numbers of the Magazine, Mr. W. C. Brownell writing of Newport and F. Marion Crawford of Bar Harbor.

You cannot afford to do without the best newspaper. Look at the Pittsburg Dispatch. Its merits display themselves. 25 4t

Returning to Italy.

Rome, June 26.—Many Italian workmen who were driven out of Marseilles, Lyons and Grenoble are returning to Italy. They tell of outrageous brutalities committed by unreasoning French mobs. They declare that many Italians in French towns have been hounded and that some have died of their injuries, but that the authorities are concealing the facts.

Dispatches on the subject are being actively exchanged between Rome and Paris.

The French authorities express regret at the outrages and advise a closer co-operation of the French and Italian police against the Anarchists.

Large Number of Policemen.

Patriot: The coal and coke strikes in Pennsylvania the past five months have been followed by the appointment of 476 coal and iron policemen for the same period by the governor. More than eighty per cent. of these were recruited in Philadelphia for duty in the central Pennsylvania coal district. Of the number 143 were appointed on application of Berwind, White & Co., the large coal operators in the Clearfield region; 101 for the Rochester and Pittsburg coal and iron company; seventy-one for the Cambria iron company, of Johnstown, and sixty for the Fall Brook coal company. The state receives one dollar for every one of these officers commissioned.

LUTHERAN LEAGUE ORGANIZED.

Established for the State of Pennsylvania in Harrisburg Yesterday —Object of the Organization.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 26.—The organization of the Luther league, of Pennsylvania, was completed this afternoon, by the convention which had been in session at the Bethehem Lutheran Tabernacle since yesterday. A constitution was adopted which does not differ materially from that of the New York league. The objects of the new organization are: First to encourage the formation of young people's societies in all the Lutheran congregations in the state, and to organize such into central or district associations wherever practicable; second, to stimulate the various societies to greater activity in their respective churches; third, to create a strong bond of friendship among the members of the various societies; fourth, to facilitate the introduction to any society of a member coming into its bounds from another; fifth, to protect and guard the young people against dangerous and vicious influences surrounding them.

Every society connected with the Lutheran church, Lutheran institutions of learning and all central associations shall be entitled to membership, providing they acknowledge as their bond of unity, the doctrines of the word of God as set forth in the unaltered Augsburg confession. Each society will be entitled to two delegates and each central or district association to five delegates. Convention shall be held annually at such places as the executive committee shall delegate.

The officers of the league shall consist of a president, vice president, corresponding secretary and treasurer, the president of each central or district association to be an ex-officio vice president. Standing committees shall be appointed of seven members each, as follows: Executive, credentials and extention, the president to be an ex-officio member of all these. There is the usual provision for the election of officers under the rules and the filling of vacancies by appointment of the president. The annual dues shall be $10 for each central association and $2 for each indivdual society not connected with a central association.

These are the officers for the first year: President, Rev. E. L. Miller, of Scranton; recording secretary. A. L. Hungerford, of Wilkesbarre; corresponding secretary, Leander Cotton, of Pittsburg; treasurer, D. John W. Hay, of Harrisburg. The attendance of delegates today was large and the proceedings were full of interest.

Quite a Stir Among Miners.

Philipsburg, Pa., June 26.—There was quite a stir among the miners in this place this morning when the following notice was posted in front of the coal office of R. B. Wigton & Sons: "As the convention held in Altoona yesterday gives permission for resumption at such mines where the men can get 45 cents per gross ton for mining, we hereby agree to pay the above price and those who are ready to return to work at all our mines at this price will find the mines open to morrow morning, June 27, 1894.

[Signed] "R. B. Wigton & Sons,
"per C. E. Sharpless, Superintendent."

The miners' leaders have not yet acted on the matter, but will probably do so during the night.

Another Sharper's Trick.

The Canton Sentinel says that a swindler has been operating in that section. His plan is to represent himself as a deputy sheriff and pretend that he has authority to give a special rebate of one dollar on all county and state taxes paid before July 1. Farmers, upon whom he worked, thinking to save money, would readily pay their taxes, whereupon the sharper would hand over a receipt signed "F. J. Stark." He played the game once to often, however, and he was arrested and taken before a justice at Cogan station where he pleaded guilty giving as an excuse that he had been on a spree and did not know what he was doing.

The best newspaper is the best of all small investments. The Pittsburg Dispatch fills the bill. 25 4t

It's the only medicine for women so certain in its effects that it can be guaranteed. In every case, if it doesn't benefit or cure, your money is returned. Can anything else, though it may be better for a tricky dealer to sell, be "just as good" for you to buy?

"Favorite Prescription" is an invigorating, restorative tonic, a soothing and strengthening nervine, and a complete cure for all the functional derangements, painful disorders, and chronic weaknesses peculiar to the sex.

For young girls just entering womanhood; for women at the critical "change of life"; for women approaching confinement; nursing mothers; and every woman who is "run-down," tired, or overworked—it is a special, safe, and certain help.

Exposure to wet and cold are common causes which lead to Catarrh in the Head. The makers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy offer $500 in Cash, for a case which they cannot cure.

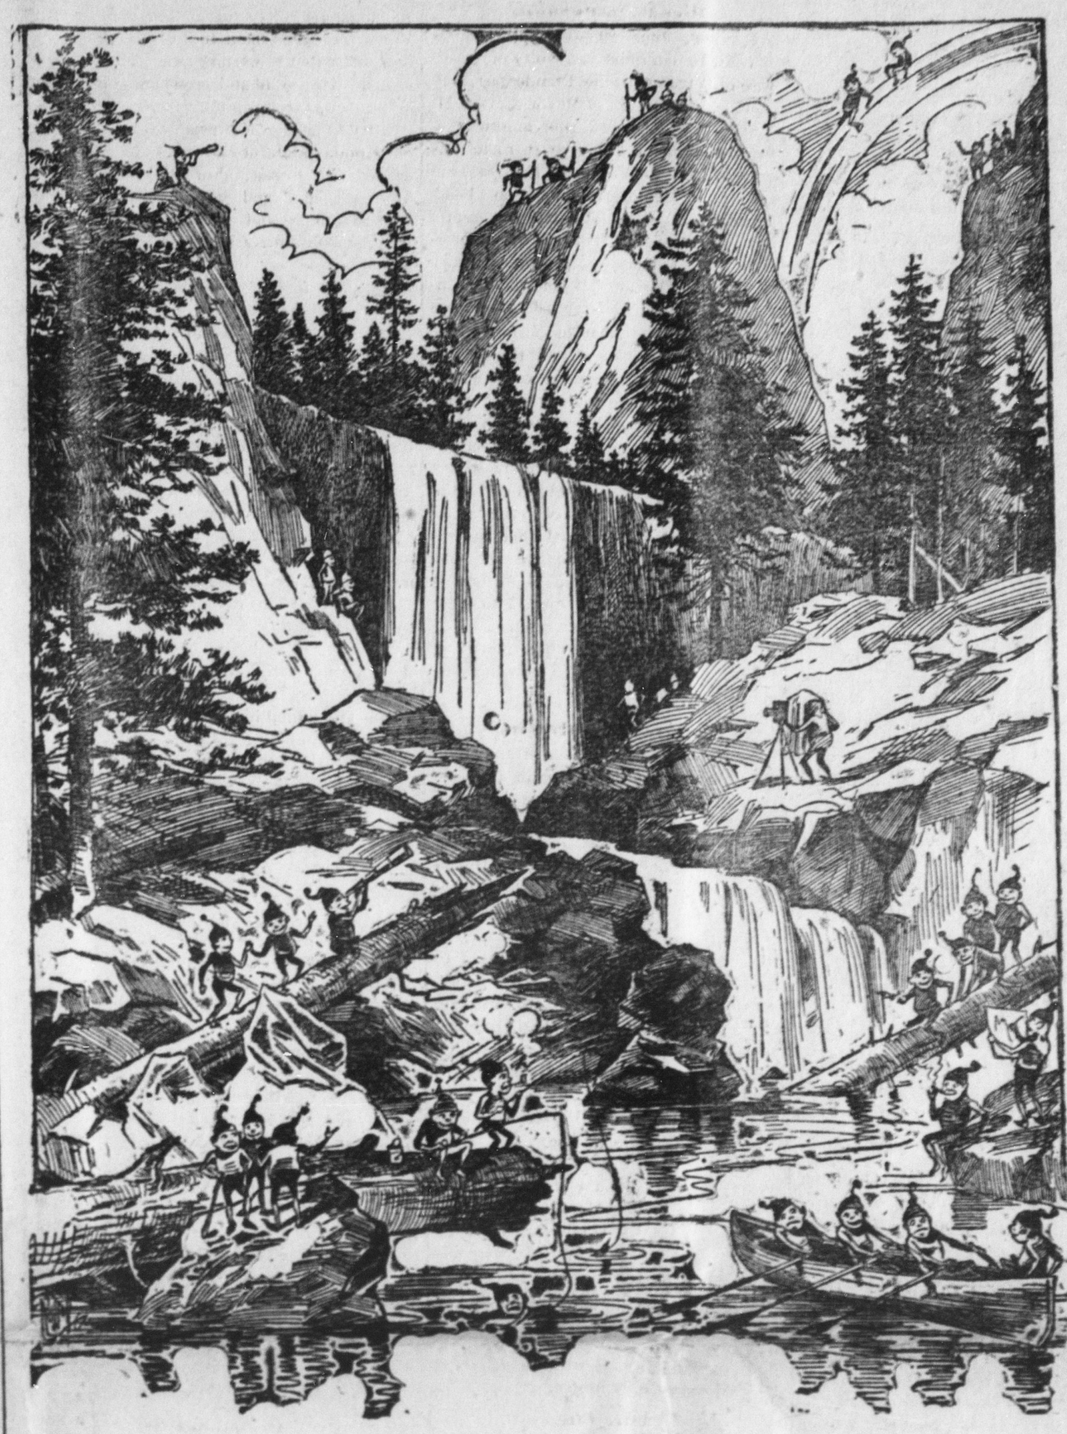
A Vision of WONDERLAND!



The Little Brownies,

those mischevious but kindly children immortalized in nursery tales, have been recently reported as taking a tour of the wild and picturesque scenery of America. The idea was long delayed, and undoubtedly came to them through a chance examination of the most wonderful and beautiful publication of the age, the magnificent pictographic scenic serial, Entitled:

Glimpses of America,

Which the Republican is now distributing among its patrons.

It is a sad commentary upon popular taste that Americans know less about the scenery of their own country than that of European lands, probably because travel in the far West has not been attended with such comforts as journeys through the old countries. But no reason is longer available to excuse ignorance of the THE INCOMPARABLE, THE IMPRESSIVE, THE TRULY MARVELOUS SCENERY of our wondrously diversified country, because "Glimpses of America" is a photographic album, comprising the grandest pictures of the most sublime objects that the human ever beheld.

They are not wood-cuts, or sketches, but large and perfect photographs of actual scenes, bewilderingly magnificent, imposing sights of the Rocky Mountains, the peaks, canons, waterfalls, valleys, lakes an cataracts of that great continental range, and of equally wonderous views on the great plains, Pueblo villages, burning deserts, immense forests; marvels of the Yosemite; picturesque, but almost inaccessible regions of the Northwest; of Alaska's glaciers and Indian towns; of the Yellowstone Park Geysers and curiosities; of Superior's Sculptured shores and Wisconsin's romantic dells; of Canada and the clevages, cascades, whirlpools and deep forests of the Northeast; of Eastern mountains, frothy streams, dashing rivers, and great precipices; of dreamy languorous scenes in the land of the flamingo, where the mocking-bird hides in the perfume-laden snow of the orange tree, and the sun kisses the banana into golden fruitage.

Every section of America is represented in this complete collection of photographs, and the pictures, instead of being imperfectly and clumsily described in brief foot notes, as in other serials, sre incorporated in the text, there being much space devoted to reading matter in "GLIMPSES OF AMERICA," as to illustrations. It is therefore a pictorial history of the charming scenery of our country, the most gorgeous, complete and eloquent that was ever prepared.

And OH,

The Cameragraphs

No one ever before saw such marveious heliotype jewels as these.

They are specimens of the perfected process of photographing in natural colors—grand, glorious and beautiful beyond imagination. A series of these marvelous pictographic productions appear in "GLIMPSES OF AMERICA," and they are to be seen in no other publication, the cost being too great as as yet to admit of common use.

You can get "GLIMPSES OF AMERICA" only through the Daily News, but upon the following remarkable generous conditions: Send or bring to this office one coupon clipped from the Republican, together with ten cents in coin, and we will deliver you Part I, or any subsequent number that is ready, over our counter, or have the same mailed to your address without further expense. The complete work comprises 32 parts, of 512 pages, 11 x 13 inches in size, and will be embellished with 550 superb photo-engravings. The photographs alone in this remarkable collection, if they were on sale, could not be purchased for less than $500.

Every American who loves his Country should possess a copy.

A FATAL MINE FIRE.

Over One Hundred Lives Imperilled by an Incendiary.

Birmingham, Ala., June 20.—Fire was discovered in the coal mines of the Mary Lee Coal and Railway company at Lewisburg, ten miles from Birmingham, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The fire broke out 400 feet from the opening of the mine. One hundred men were at work in the mine at the time, fifty of them being beyond the fire, their only way of escape being through the flames and smoke. Up to a late hour to-night four dead bodies have been recovered and many of those taken out alive are prostrated from suffocation. The dead are as follows.

G. W. Baskins, miner; aged about 40; leaves a family.

William McKinzie, aged 16 years.

An unknown white man.

When it became known that the mine was on fire the fifty men who were imprisoned began making efforts to escape. The greater part of them were loaded into the tram cars which were drawn through the flames and smoke by means of wire cables, rapidly as possible. Others took their chance in making a dash through the fire. Some got out alive, while others unfortunate fell victims to the smoke and fire. Among the latter was Superintendent Whalen who was prostrated and died just as he was brought out. The work of rescue went on for several hours and by dark every man who was alive had been taken out of the mines.

Many of those brought out in the tram cars were suffocated, as the cars had, of necessity, to be drawn through the smoke that filled the mine. A number of physicians were at the mouth of the mine as was also the entire population of the town of Lewisburg.

Mothers, wives and children were wild with grief, and it was with the greatest difficulty that they were restrained from dashing into burning mine in an effort to rescue their loved ones. As rapidly as the suffocated miners were brought out they were taken in hand by physicians and efforts made to revive them. Four died from suffocation. The others who were prostrated will, it is thought, recover. It is believed that all the men have been accounted for, though later investigation may show further fatalities.

The owners of the mine are positive that it was set on fire. This mine had recently started up with new labor, having been closed down previous to the strike. There is no clue to the incendiaries.

The fire in the mine is still raging at a furious rate. The fire department from Birmingham has been sent to the place and are now fighting the flames. The fire began in a lot of refuse coal where no work was being done. It was directly in the manway, and had not one of the men working in the mine discovered it before it gained great headway, not one of the fifty miners would have escaped alive. The early discovery of the flames enabled many to escape by running through the smoke. Those working far back in the mine were notified as quickly as possible, but when they arrived at the fire they could not pass and it was then that they were loaded on tram cars and drawn through the smoke and flames.

Mr. Bradley's Reason.

Ulipsburg, Pa., June 20.—President Bradley, of the miners' organization, furnishes the United Press with the following reason for countermanding the order for the miners to resume work where a compromise price was offered. "When I arrived at DuBois," said President Bradley, "I found so much dissatisfaction along the Toby Valley branch of the Allegheny Valley railroad and throughout Northern Pennsylvania, not on account of the price offered but on account of the partial settlement that I concluded the only way to give satisfaction was to rescind the order for resumptions and call a convention for next Monday, when a thorough understanding may be had.

"To sum it all up it was on account of the general dissatisfaction and the danger of an outbreak among those for whom no settlement had been made, which undoubtedly would have ended in riot and bloodshed.

Miners Getting Nervous.

Punxsutawney, Pa., June 20.—The English speaking miners at Walston are getting very nervous, many of them have left and those employed there who live in Punxsutawney and Clayville are feeling quite uncomfortable. Last night many of those at Walston were forced to get out of bed by the Italians and Huns and go on picket duty. It is reported that they intend to make the English speaking miners in Punxsutawney and Clayville get out and scarce as guards and there is considerable alarm among them. The Italians and Huns are expecting non-union men all the time and are constantly on the ragged edge of excitement and anxiety. Two men suspected of being non-unionists, were driven out of Walston to day with clubs and stones. One man at Adrian, who had been at work, was thrown out of the window at his house at 4 o'clock this morning, and came to town half dressed and terrified. When the miners themselves become frightened the situation is becoming alarming.

nother of Cleveland Surprises.

ashington, June 20.—The new assistreasurer at Philadelphia, William D. gler, whose appointment today appears to be regarded by the Philadelphia delegation as another of President Cleveland's surprises, is a son of ex-Governor Bigler, of Clearfield, Pa., and a brother of E. Bigler, who was collector of internal revenue in the western district of Pennsylvania during Mr. Cleveland's former administration.

Prendergast's Sanity.

Chicago, June 20.—The proceedings that are to determine the sanity or otherwise of Pgtrick Eugene Prendergast, convicted of the murder of Mayor Carter H. Harrison, commenced this morning before Judge Payne. The court room was crowded to suffocation. The assassin made no demonstration upon being brought into court. The state was represented by Assistant State's Attorney Morrison and Todd, while Attorneys Gregory Harlan and Darrow appeared for the convicted man. The defense asked that the regular venier be exhausted before a special one was summoned, and this course was adopted. Each side was allowed three peremptory challenges. Several days may be occupied in securing a jury.

After the examination of prospective jurors had commenced, Prendergast became obstreporous. He objected to the questions put by the counsel to the members of the venire, declared that he was able and willing to plead for himself, and otherwise made himself so objectionable that Judge Payne was compelled to order his removal from the court room.

He was taken back to jail muttering imprecations and struggling with the constables.

Lexow Investigation.

New York, June 20.—Great crowds of people gathered this morning in the corridor leading to the supreme court room, where the senate police investigating committee holds its sessions. It was rumored that Police Justice Patrick Divver will take the stand and deny the allegations made by the bunco man, Clark, that his saloon was used as a rendezvous by the gang. Chairman Lexow wanted to know if Mr. Goff heard that Justice Divver desired an opportunity to vindicate himself. Mr. Goff said he had received no communication to that effect.

The chairman said that in the case of Justice Roesch 'a precedent had been established and Justice Divver should be accorded the same privileges that were accorded Justice Roesch.' Mr. Ransom suggested that perhaps Justice Divver was more deliberate than Justice Roesch, whereupon Senator O'Connor remarked that the discretion of Justice Divver was to be commended.

Several women, who claimed to be "housekeepers," were placed upon the witness stand this morning and gave testimony indicating that money had been paid to the police for protection.

Chinese Desire Citizenship.

Chicago, June 20.—One hundred and fifty of the most prominent members of the Chinese colony in Chicago organized, on Tuesday, a Chicago Chinese Club, which is to co-operate with similar clubs to be formed as soon as possible in all the cities of the United States where there are enough of Chinamen to make it desirable The object of the organization of the Chinese is to agitate and bring pressure to bear on the congress of the United States to grant privileges of citizenship to the Chinese. The president of the club organized on Tuesday is Mor Kee, one of Chicago's richest Chinaman, who was the first of his race to apply for and obtain his first papers of naturalization. He got them fourteen years ago in a New York court. When he applied for his final papers of citizenship they were refused. Every year since he has gone before a judge and made formal application to be made an American citizen,

White Caps in Georgia Whip and Shoot a Man and Leave Him in a Pit.

Atlanta, Ga., June 20.—Some time ago there was a moonshine case before Commissioner Hamilton, of Dalton, and Will Roper was called upon to testify. A few days after that a warning was sent him, signed by the skull and crossbones of the White Caps, telling him to leave the country at once or he was a doomed man. On Monday night of last week five men called at his house and ordered him out. He was bound and gagged. They put him on a mule and started out for Cohutta mountain. On the side of the mountain several deep pits have been dug by the men prospecting for copper veins.

It was at one of these pits that the gang halted with Roper. After making him pray and sing they began to whip him. Each man took his turn and by the time the fifth had finished Roper's back was bleeding. He was lying on the ground almost dead. Then they went off a little distance and each one tried his marksmanship at Roper. Four shots were fired but only three struck him. One bullet lodged in his head, another shattered his arm and the third glazed his leg.

All of them thought he was dead, and they cast him into a pit. There he remained from Monday night until Saturday afternoon, when one of the farmers of the neighborhood passing by heard his groans and pulled him out.

Roper regained consciousness the next day, and from that time until he was taken out he had not slept. If it had not been for a little grass which was growing at the bottom of the pit and an old log which had fallen down there, he would not have lived. The log was rotten and a little moisture had soaked into it. This quenched his thirst some.

A Curious Counterfeit.

Baltimore, Md. June 20.—A counterfeit $1 note, introducing a new feature in making spurious money has turned up at the custom house. The two sides of the note were made separately. They were then pasted together with a thin piece of silk fibered paper between them. Clem Goodrick, the redemption clerk at the sub-treasury, says he never saw a more clever piece of counterfeiting than this is, and he believes that when the note was new it deceived many of the experts. The silk paper gave the note the soft feeling that is characteristic in genuine money and which is so often absent in counterfeits. The note had been in use some time, and its spurious character was discovered because the paste had become dry and the parts separated.

The Anti-Option Bill.

Washington, June 20.—The House devoted the day to hearing speeches by Mr. Walker, republican, of Massachusetts; Mr, Harter, democrat, of Ohio, and Mr. Goldzier, democrat, of Illinois, against the Hatch anti-option bill, and Mr. Talbert, democrat, of South Carolina, and Mr. Richardson, democrat, of Michigan, in favor of it. The debate will close with adjournment tomorrow, the vote on the pending bill and amendments to be taken after the morning hour Friday.

Threats Against Working.

Scottsdale, Pa., June 20.—Large mobs of strikers have surrounded the coke works at Mammoth end Tiers. The men are in an ugly mood and have been making threats against workmen, but have been deferred from violence by the deputies on guard at both plants. Eleven men, eight woman and fourteen children were placed in jail at Greensburg today, charged with participating in the riot at Mammoth yesterday. The strikers at Bessemer, hearing the negroes were to be imported to day. The negroes were then sent to the Lemont works, and that plant is now in operation.

TO HELP WOMEN.

That Is Why This Woman Writes.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

Few people have any idea of the suffering that oppresses some women.

Pains run rampant through their entire bodies. They suffer secretly as long as they can, and then go all to pieces and don't care what happens.

Yet this misery is easily relieved; thousands of American women proclaim the fact.

The portrait presented here is that of Mrs. J. M. Bender, who lives on the old York Road at Nicetown, Pa. She has been for many years in very poor health.

She had falling of the womb and other forms of female weakness, with headache, severe backache, pains all over her body, and serious kidney trouble.

Her blood was in such a bad state that physicians said she had dropsy. Nearly discouraged she tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and to her great surprise it made her a well woman.

She now wishes to tell women all over the world to take the Vegetable Compound and be well. Any druggist has it.

Nothing in all the world has cured so many cases of female weaknesses as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Why don't you try it?

Always encourage home talent when it stands ready to establish an enterprise that will build up a town. Never attempt to raise more money to secure new enterprises that the town can afford to part with. Always look on the bright side of the town's outlook. Never predict anything but prosperity. Well men often die because they believe they are suffering from some imaginary ailment, and a good town sometimes retrogrades simply because of the cracking of calamity howlers. Say nothing if you cannot say a good word for the town, but keep on sawing the town's wood.

The Only Sure Way.

According to an exchange a story is going around this summer that sweet peas hung up in a room will kill all the flies in it. Last season it was common newspaper talk that a wisp of red clover in the house would invite the flies to kingdom come. Two or three years ago pumkin blossoms were heralded to four winds as a preventive of flies. Fly paper has been a standby as long as any of us can remember. But they all fail. The Bradford Era man thinks the only reliable way to get rid of flies is to belt the offender over the head with a hammer and stay with it until it is dead.

The Human Electrical Forces!

How They Control the Organs of the Body.

The electrical force of the human body, as the nerve fluid may be termed, is an especially attractive department of science, as it exerts so marked an influence on the health of the organs of the body. Nerve force is produced by the brain and conveyed by means of the nerves to the various organs of the body, thus supplying the latter with the vitality necessary to insure their health. The pneumogastric nerve, as shown here, may be said to be the most important of the entire nerve system, as it supplies the heart, lungs, stomach, bowels, etc., with the nerve force necessary to keep them active and healthy. As will be seen by the cut the long nerve descending from the base of the brain and terminating in the bowels is the pneumogastric, while the numerous little branches supply the heart, lungs and stomach with necessary vitality. When the brain becomes in any way disordered by irritability or exhaustion, the nerve force which it supplies is lessened, and the organs receiving the diminished supply are consequently weakened.

Physicians generally fail to recognize the importance of this fact, but treat the organ itself instead of the cause of the trouble The noted specialist, Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., has given the greater part of his life to the study of this subject, and the principal discoveries concerning it are due to his efforts.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, the unrivaled brain and nerve food, is prepared on the principle that all nervous and many other difficulties originate from disorders of the nerve centers. Its wonderful success in curing these disorders is testified to by thousands in every part of the land.

Restorative Nervine cures sleeplessness, nervous prostration, dizziness, hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs. It is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid.

IN THE PUNXY DISTRICT.

Trouble Reported and the National Guard Ordered Out.

This morning's Altoona Tribune says: The soldiers have again been called out. Not many months ago it was the trouble at Homestead which caused the Fifth regiment of the National Guard of the state to prevent riot and bloodshed, and now the objective point is Punxsutawney and vicinity. Pursuant to orders received from headquarters yesterday morning Colonol Theo. Burchfield sent telegrams to the various company commanders, ordering them to have men ready for forward movement, which took place last night.

Company C, of Hollidaysburg, was the first to respond and arrived in the city early in the evening. It was followed by the Indiana, Blairsville and Johnstown companies, arriving on second section of Philadelphia express. The majority of the staff officers and the drum corps rendezvoused here and at 10.16 the train, drawn by engine 89, steamed out of the station eastward.

From the east came the Lewistown, Bedford, Huntingdon and Bellefonte companies and with these the Sheridan Troop, Captain C. S. W. Jones commanding. All these soldiers came together at Bellwood. There they were joined by Adjutant General Greenland and at 2.10 this morning the forward movement was made in the direction of Punxsutawney. The troop trains were divided into three sections and it was expected that all would arrive at Punxsutawney at 5 o'clock this morning. From there they will march to Walston, about one and one-half miles distant, and which seems at present to be the center of the disturbance.

Yesterday a freight train on the Pennsylvania and Northwestern road was stoned at Homer by a crowd of about 700 marching miners, said to hail from DuBois and Frugality. The windows of the engine cab were broken, but beyond that no damage was done. As to the situation about Walston the Punxsutawney News gives this account:

"The Walston Hungarians and Italians are wrought up to the highest state of excitement. They are patroling the railroad running to the mines day and night on the watch for trains that might bring new men in, and should the company attempt to start their mines at Walston and Adrian without a settlement there will likely be desperate resistance on the part of these foreigners. On Monday and Tuesday they purchased an additional lot of fire arms and ammunition. They have their cannons mounted ready to fight. They are like a lot of bees swarming in mid-summer, and keep up such a racket at night that the more peaceable citizens at Walston can hardly sleep, and many of the English-speaking miners are thinking of leaving the scene of such war like preparations as they deem the place unsafe. On Tuesday two strange Italians went to Walston ostensibly to work and try to break the strike. They were bounced upon by the vigilant Italians and terribly beaten, even the women joining the angry mob. They would have been killed outright had it not been for the interposition of some English speaking miners. One of them made his escape and the other, we understand, was captured and is kept a prisoner. It is reported that a body of armed guards are coming and this does not allay the fears of an outbreak. The Huns and Ikes are arming themselves to the teeth and are massing their forces at Walston by impressing their countrymen to join them wherever they find any."

Company B's Departure.

The order to Company B to rendezvous at Bellwood was received here abont noon Thursday and, notwithstanding the fact that many of the boys live away out in the country, the officers in charge succeeded in getting 42 of the boys together in time to depart on the 5.12 train west. The company was in charge of Lieutenant W. F. Reeder, Esq., in the absence of Capt. W. F. Reber, in Harrisburg. Corporal Samuel Gettig remained behind to bring up the stragglers and he was as busy as a nailer scouting around Thursday afternoon and night getting word to the rest of the boys, but he accomplished the task and this morning the balance of the company, a squad of some twelve or fifteen, with Second Lieutenat Phil. D. Foster and Corporal Gettig in charge, departed for the scene of action. It is not likely the boys are going to have much fighting to do, and it is more than probable that they will be home again inside of a week.

Tournament at DuBois.

Large crowds are in attendance at the bicycle races and band tournament now going on at DuBois. Yesterday the winners in the cycle races were as follows: Half mile novice, T. W. Kendig, of Ridgway; time 1.16. Half mile handicap,, J. E. Henderson, Lewistown; time 107½. Half mile open, Robbins, of Pittsburg, in 1.12½. One mile handicap, Hollingsworth, of Houtzdale. The band tournament also opened yesterday with eight bands in attendance. The association met with fourteen delegates present. Philipsburg was chosed as the place of meeting next year.

Death of an Old Citizen.

Mr. John Homan died at Aaronsburg last Friday, aged about eighty years. Mr. Homan was an old citizen of Haines township, and a farmer by occupation. He was a widower, having been twice married. He was a member of the Lutheran church. Mr. Homan's first wife was a daughter of Mathias Beach, and his second wife was Susan, daughter of Joseph Condo, dec'd of Aaronsburg.

English Women.

Here is a breezy little description of our feminine cousins across the sea, given by an American girl traveling abroad: "The English women who walked the deck or lounged in steamer chairs on the passage over the channel did not look to me as though they required much chivalrous attention. They were too splendidly healthy and big to be coddled. The general sameness among them made it possible to at once sum up the type of British womanhood. Tall, flat-breasted, large feet and hands, strong, intellectual faces, fresh complexions, a striding gait, which is not exactly graceful, and very musical voices; these are the general attributes. On the whole I like the type, but they could stand a little toning down in places and touching up in points. They have the oddest style of dress for the moment. It is the fashion to pile the hair in a great wad on the back of the neck and to plaster the fringe in a frouzle over the brow, with an invisible net holding it down. The hats are large rolled up from the sides and trimmed heavily at the back, so that the head seems draggod down behind. Bonnets are also worn on the very back of the coiled hair, and are mostly invisible from the front view. Traveling dresses and street dresses are all made with waistcoats and jackets. The four in-hand scarf is giving way to a straight, narrow bow. Silver chatelains make a pleasant jingle wherever a woman walks, and a tightly furled umbrella gives her a walking stick. Even to gloves the English woman is masculine, for she wears heavy dog skin ones that are loose and clasp with a snap button.

A Bride Groom's Escapades.

The most novel like story of marriage without riches is related of a young couple who boarded the train at Munson's last Thursday for Clearfield, where they wanted to get married. When the conductor approached the couple for tickets, the young man told him he had none, nor had he any money, but on arriving at Clearfield he would meet a friend and pay him. On arriving at Clearfield station they very cleverly dodged the conductor, and in a few minutes were getting their marriage license at the Court House. Here the young man told a smooth story and was permitted to go without paying the fee. Dr. McKinley's door bell was rung, and the two were made man and wife in the Dr's parlor, and a fine marriage certificate, which cost $1.50 made out. The couple took their leave without saying "thank you" to the minister. When they reached the depot for the return trip, this nice young man approached Agent Hughes and finally he was induced to give him two tickets and deposited $1.02 cents in the drawer for them. The young man made nice promises but up to date he has not been heard from and it is supposed the new wife now owns the property. If the young man will send Dr. McKinley $3.00 for that nice certificate we will not publish his name but if he does not we will publish the marriage notice.—Clearfield Raftsman's Journal.

Can Stand It.

The fear that the state treasury may be almost if not quite emptied this year in spite of the fact that the tax on the capital stock of corporations has been increased by the Boyer act from 3 to 5 mills is a startling suggestion of the business depression that has been felt severely in Pennsylvania as well as elsewhere. This tax is the greatest source of revenue the state possesses, but it will be very much less this year than the $3,500,000 it reached last year, mainly because the railroads have done so much less business. The $5,500,000 school appropriation this year has something to do with the cutting down of the surplus in the treasury, of course, but most of it must be laid to the charge of the depression in business.

The prospect of a revival in business in the fall that is believed to exist is encouraging, however, and the feeling is much more hopeful than it would have been if such a report of the condition of the state funds had been sent out six months, or even three months ago.

Canada Thistles.

Large patches of Canada thistles are reported as growing in different sections of the borough and county and soon will be in full bloom. Property owners should be informed at once of this and in case no notice is taken the fine should be imposed The troublesome weed can only be checked in this way.

S.S.S. CURES MALARIAL POISON

Nature should be assisted to throw off impurities of the blood. Nothing does it so well, so promptly, or so safely as Swift's Specific.

LIFE HAD NO CHARMS.

For three years I was troubled with malarial poison, which caused my appetite to fail, and I was greatly reduced in flesh, and life lost all its charms. I tried mercurial and potash remedies, but to no effect. I could get no relief. I then decided to try S.S.S. A few bottles of this wonderful medicine made a complete and permanent cure, and I now enjoy better health than ever.

THE GUARD CALLED OUT.

Company B Departs This Evening for Punxsutawney.

About midnight Wednesday night Governor Pattison and Adjutant General Greenland arrived from Philadelphia and some startling despatches regarding the strike situation at Punxsutawney were placed in their hands. Sheriff Gourley wired that the foreign miners had taken possession of the Wolstern mines and he could not control the strikers. After a conference of the governor and others it decided to send the Fifth and Sixteenth regiments to the scene and orders to this effect were issued. Before they had been forwarded, however, they were countermanded, it being decided to await further information which could not be received before seven o'clock the next morning.

The situation on Thursday was not improved over last night and the Governor and Adjutant General decided to call out the troops, and orders to that effect were issued to all the brigade and company commanders in the Fifth and Sixteenth regiments to report as quick as possible at Punxsutawney.

Crop Prospects.

The weather crop bulletin for the week ending Monday, June 18th, gives the following as the outlook for crops in the central section of the State:

"Under the late favorable condition, all vegetation made good progress and the prospects are much more encouraging. Reports generally are favorable for wheat, rye and barley. Corn is backward and short, but is now growing quite rapidly and obtaining a more healthy condition. Oats suffering from blight, upper blades turning yellow. Severe hail storm on 15th, doing considerable damage to crops. Fruit falling. The apple crop will be light. Some of the buckwheat sown along streams to replace the grain destroyed by floods. Tobacco acreage small."

Down in Virginia.

John Ligget, of Beech Creek, is now at Centralia, W. Va., where he is making an estimate of the timber on about 14000 acres of land, owned by the Brockerhoff Bros., of Bellefonte. Mr. Liggett states that the Brockerhoff Bros. own some very fine timber in that region, mostly poplar and white oak. The Elk river and the Holly river and the West Virginia and Pittsburg railroad run through the tract. It is also believed that there is a seven foot vein of good cannel coal on the land. Mr. Ligget also says that the snake story teller would not find any material for yarns, as he has killed only two since he has been there.

Odd Fellows Picnic.

The Nittany Valley lodge, No. 1054, I. O. O. F., will hold a basket picnic in the Hecla grove, near Hecla station, on the C. R. R. of Pa., on Saturday, July 21, 1894. Sixteen sister lodges have been invited to attend, also 4 Sabbath schools and 3 G. A. R. posts. A dispensation has been granted by the grand lodge of Pa. to parade in the full regalia of the order. Good bands will be in attendance and addresses will be delivered by able speakers. The lodge will also hold a festival at the same place in the evening. Bills will be out in a few days announcing the program. All are invited to attend.

Linn—Gehrett.

At the residence of Mrs. Catherine Gehrett, on the pike, at five o'clock on Wednesday evening, Mr. Guy C. Linn and Miss Carrie M. Gehrett were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Only a few friends were present to witness the ceremony. A most delicious wedding supper was served. The bride is a very charming young lady and the groom is an industrious, well doing young man. Late in the evening the Bellefonte band went to the house and tendered the happy couple a most delightful sernade.

They are Grateful.

—The wheat fields are putting on their dress of gold.

—Don't forget the Epworth League festival Saturday evening.

—Where are you going to spend your Fourth? is now the prevailing question.

—The strawberry season is now supplemented by the cherry season, the market this morning presenting many bushels of the latter fruit for sale.

—Another electric and rain storm passed over Bellefonte Monday afternoon. It seems as if there couldn't a day pass without a storm of some kind.

—The sale of the old office furniture at the court house on Tuesday afternoon did not enrich the county treasury very many dollars, but all the stuff was sold.

—The pumps at the water works are now being run night and day. This will keep up a good supply of water for all purposes, although the expense will be considerably more.

—The Bellefonte Academy ball team went to Lock Haven last Saturday and in six innings with the Normal nine were blanked, the score standing 13 to 0 in favor of the Normals.

—Miss Mary Conley, the nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Conley, who live in the Beaver Row, fell down stairs last Saturday, breaking her right arm below the elbow.

—All the young ladies in Bellefonte, it seemed, were out promenading Monday evening, and such an array of feminine loveliness could not be scared up in any other town in Pennsylvania.

—The Milesburg base ball club defeated the Unionville nine in the latter place last Saturday, and now it seems to be the general opinion that Unionville should practice ball playing a few months yet.

—The sodding in front of the property of Dr. R. L. Dartt greatly enhances the appearance of that locality. When all Allegheny street is fixed up in the same way it will appear beautiful indeed.

—The Tyrone Herald says: Revs. Harvey G. Furbay and F. L. Bergstresser, and John P. Harris, Jr., returned on Friday from a ten days' fishing trip in the wilds of Clinton and Centre counties.

—William Terry, the miller at Jackson's mill, caught a fine string of six large trout just above the mill this morning. One of the trout measured sixteen inches in length, and was a beautiful specimen.

—The Junior Epworth League, of the Milesburg M. E. church, will hold a social at the parsonage on Thursday evening, the 28th. All kind of choice refreshments will be served and various amusements indulged. Everybody is invited.

—If the Street committee of Bellefonte council wish to do something that would be a decided improvement, let them fill up the diamond about two feet and then cover the same with patent pavement. It would then make the public square in keeping with its surroundings.

—The district attorney of Jefferson county, who was very mild before the state's soldiers went to Punxsutawney, grew very boisterous and emphatic with the militia at his back, and dared the strikers to persist in their obstinate depredations and violation of the law.

—The girls of Emporium have held an indignation meeting and are up in arms against the young men of that place who use their parlors for loafing purposes, enjoy their music, etc., and forget to reciprocate when an entertainment comes along. Emporium girls are not the only ones so treated.

—There has been a flurry in wheat which has given prices an upward tendency that may not only be permanent, but that will be followed by still more marked advances. The farmers will be rejoiced to learn this, for they certainly have had an unprofitable time of it the past twelve months.

—On Tuesday two little girls on Jail hill got into a quarrel and the one hit the other on the head with a good-sized stone, inflicting quite a severe and painful injury. The father of the injured child endeavored to have the other girl arrested, but as she is only about eleven years old, the law does not hold her accountable.

—A number of young ladies took exception to our item of Tuesday in which we stated that so many pretty girls were out promenading Monday evening. We now wish to make peace with all parties and will just add that there was a large number of young ladies at their homes who were even more beautiful than those we saw on the streets.

—The increase of the borough tax question seems to have drifted into "innocuous desuetude," to use the expression of Grover Cleveland. Come to think of it, though, that is about the only proper place for it to be. There is no reason or no occasion for Bellefonters to be more heavily burdened with taxation than they are at the present time, as it is now a question of cents with a good many to be able to live at all and keep off of the borough.

LONG LIST OF PRIZES.

For the Athletic Sport on the Fourth of July.

No one can afford to miss going to Hunter's Park on July 4th to witness the contests in the several races that have been arranged for the occasion. The bicycle races by members of Wheelman's Club will be an attractive feature, as well as the foot races in which members of the association will participate. The Bellefonte band will render music during the entire day. The boys will look well in their new uniforms, and the music will be the best any band in the state can produce. Low railroad rates and admission to the sports are within the reach of every body, so no one need stay at home. Every person will get full valne for every cent spent at the Park. Make this a general holiday for Centre county by going to the Park. Read the following long list of prizes:

A handsome rocker, donated by E. C. Rowe; pocket knife, Jas. Harris & Co.; silver calender, F. Potts Green; fishing rod, Zeller & Son; bicycle shoes, Louis Doll; tennis shoes, Joseph Bros.; rug, H. H. Schreyer; slippers, A. C. Mingle; gold pen, H. Y. Stitzer; silver match box, F. C. Richard; silver cup, F. P. Blair & Co.; Sweater, Montgomery & Co.; Grant's portrait-framed, S. H. Williams; traveler's case, Krumrine Bros; gold cuff buttons, W. T. Ackenbach; one dozen photos, H. B. Schaeffer; one dozen photos, J A. Finkbinder; razor, McKee & Bro.; Umbrella stand, W. H. Wilkinson; alarm clock, F. Galbraith; paper rack, F. E. Naginey; album, W. T. Meyer; lap robe, James Schofield. The above prizes are now on exhibition in the large show window of Mr. Charles LeVan, the tailor, where they can be seen by any and everybody.

Will Close on the Fourth.

As all our readers by this time know, the Young Men's Christian Association has arranged to celebrate the Fourth of July by an exhaustive program of field sports at Hunter's Park, on the Bellefonte Central railroad. This will prove a most delightful place for everybody to spend that day and all persons, young and old, should take advantage of the occasion. To give all an opportunity to attend the business men of Bellefonte will close their places of business during the entire day signifying their willingness in the following manner:

"We, the undersigned business men of Bellefonte, do hereby agree to close our respective places of business, during the entire day of July 4th, 1894.

James Harris & Co., C. C. Shuey, Sechler & Co., F. Galbraith, Logan Machine Works, McCalmont & Co., Ed. C. Rowe, E. L. Powers, S. H. Williams, F. C. Richard, William M. McClure, W. H. Wilkinson, W. T. Meyer, James Schofield, Daniel Irvin & Son, Charles H. LeVan, F. P. Blair & Co., Montgomery & Co., H. H. Schroyer, J. A. Harper & Co., W. T. Achenbach, F. E. Naginey, J. H. Bauer & Co., Louis Doll, R. J. Schad & Bro., Racket Store Co., Bellefonte Supply House, Mrs. R. W. Gilmour, A. C. Mingle, Joseph Brothers & Co., H. A. McKee & Bro., Edwin F. Garman, J. A. Aikens, M. Snyder, M. R. Graham, Samuel Lewin, James J. Gramley, M. Fauble, W. R. Brachbill, Lyon & Co., Jared Harper, T. C. Brown.

He Was a Good Man.

Robert T. Elder died at his home in Wilmerding on Sunday morning at 2.30 o'clock. His demise, which was very sudden, he having been only ill one week, was caused primarily by peritonitis, although he had been suffering with a complication of diseases.

The deceased was over 40 years of age, having been born in Half Moon valley, Centre county, on June 8, 1854. He came to Altoona early in life and was employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad company, where he learned the machinist trade. Some twelve or thirteen years ago he left Altoona, since which time he has been employed at various places, among them being Pittsburg and Brooklyn. For three years he was master mechanic of the Mexican National Railroad company's shops in Mexico, after which he came north again. The last five years of his life were spent at Wilmerding, where he was employed at his trade in the Westinghouse Air Brake company's shops.

Epworth League Festival.

The Epworth League of the M. E. church of Bellefonte will hold a festival in the vacant room in the McClain block, next the Watchman office, on Saturday evening next June 30th. All the delicacies of the season, with the most delicious ice cream and palatable cake, will be served by some of the prettiest girls in Bellefonte. Everybody is cordially invited to call around as often during the evening as possible. If the weather keeps as warm as this every young man and older man in Bellefonte, with their wives or lady friends, will want at least three dishes of cream apiece.

Beautiful Flowers.

One of the most beautiful flower plants the writer has seen for a long time is a cactus at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McGinley on East Lamb street. It is a very large plant, and now has out in full bloom sixty-four large flowers. They are bright red in color and a most handsome variety. Another beautiful cactus plant is at the home of Miss Magill on Allegheny street.

Judge Furst Returns Thanks.

Hon. A. O. Furst, who was away from home Saturday morning when his stable burned down, returned Saturday evening and now requests us to return thanks to the Bellefonte firemen, as well as all others, who so willingly assisted in the protection and saving of his property.

Obituary.

John Bitner Leathers was born near Houserville, in what is now Benner township, Centre county, Pa., on the 18th day of March, 1833 and closed his pilgrimage at Mt. Eagle, Howard twp., (after a pain ful illness of several weeks duration) June 14, 1894, aged 61 years, 2 months and 27 days. His parents were John and Barbara (Bitner) Leathers, well-known in Bald Eagle Valley, as well as other parts of the county, for their noble lives of usefulness and Godliness. On the 13th day of September, 1855, deceased was united in the hold bonds of matrimony with Miss A. Eliza Turner, who proved a true and devoted companion and helpmate and became the mother of twelve children, of whom two sons, Wm. T. and N. Haupt, and five daughters, Ella B., Cora E., Bertha Edith, Olive E, and Florence survive, the other five having preceeded the father to the "Home of the Soul." Three brothers and two sisters together with nine grand children, remain to mingle their tears with the bereaved wife and children. Mr. Leathers was widely known and esteemed for his many noble qualities and his demise is profoundly regretted by a large circle of friends and acquaintances among whom his long and useful life was passed. His family were especially the objects of his affection and kindness, and that they may be comfortable and happy, he was dilligent in business, carrying on the pottery business as long as it was profitable, after which he established a handle factory which he successfully conducted until his last illness, and so prudently did he manage his affairs that he had no debts and his business matters are so well arranged that his sons will be enabled to continue the business without interruption.

In early life he became a Christian and united with the church of Christ at Howard, and so faithfully did he and his companion heed the divine injunction to "bring up their children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord," that all but the youngest are members of the church. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. E. N. Manley, of Howard at the family mansion, on Sunday, June 17th, and all that remained of the beloved John B. Leathers was followed by a vast concourse of people to Sandy Ridge cemetery, near Curtin, and all that was mortal was returned to his native earth while he has gone to dwell with the dear Savior in one of the "many mansions." His bereaved family are Christians—they are buoyed up by the Christian's hope, and knowing that their departed loved one, having been sustained by an unfaltering faith as he passed through the gates of death, "sleeps in Jesus," they know that he will be in the triumphant throng who will come with our glorious Lord, who, when he comes to make all things new, and to be glorified in his saints.

"There is a land immortal,
The beautiful of lands,
Beside its ancient portal,
A silent sentry stands.

He only can undo it,
And open wide the door,
And mortals who pass through it,
Are mortals never more."

They Were Treated Right.

This morning we were visited by a committee of the chain workers, from McCoy & Linn's chain mill, who asked us to state that a few facts in Monday's item were incorrect. First, the price paid here was only 1¼ cents lower than in the eastern district, and only 1½ cents lower than in the western. Then again, that the 67 cents alleged to have been all that was made by one worker in two days was misleading; as said worker was not a man but only a boy apprentice, and that even he could have made more had he worked steadier.

The men spoke glowing words of praise for the gentlemanly way in which they were treated by Mr. McCoy, who on hearing their side of the question, at once consented to increase the scale of wages to 6 cents, which is perfectly satisfactory to the men, and they will go to work again tomorrow morning.

An Acquisition.

The Bellefonte band has playing with them at present Mr. Charles Barton, an expert tuba player, formerly of the Bloomsburg band. Mr. Barton is desirous of remaining in Bellefonte and will do so provided he can get employment of any kind. He is a sober, industrious young man, of good address, and is willing to work at anything. He will remain here to play with the band on the 4th, and in the meantime, every effort will be made to find employment for him. Citizens interested in the band will please remember this and if they hear of any available employment, whether temporary or permanent, please notify some member of the band and thus help support the organization; and then—"let the band play."

P. O. S. of A. Anniversisy.

The Anniversary Association of the P. O. S. of A. for the district composed of the counties of Clinton, Lycoming, Centre, Clearfield, Elk, Jefferson, Cameron and Blair counties meets at Emporium this year, July 3d and 4th. The officers of the Association are M. W. Nicholas, Camp 88, Renovo, President; G. H. Alhate, Camp 88, Renovo, Secretary; G. H. Harmon, Camp 639, Bellefonte, Treasurer.

BERNARD LAUTH DEAD.

Expires at His Home at Howard on Monday Evening.

Our readers will hear with deep regret of the death of Mr. Bernard Lauth, which occurred at his home in Howard at 8.45 o'clock Monday evening, after an illness of some months duration. Mr. Lauth was probably one of Centre county's best known and widely esteemed citizens.

Deceased was born in the province of Alsace, Germany, August 23, 1820, thus being aged 73 years, 10 months and 2 days, at the time of his death. With his father and mother and grandparents he came to the United States in 1831 and settled at Pittsburg, where young Bernard, when old enough, went to work in the rolling mills. From the lowest position in the mill he worked himself up until he became the boss roller. From Pittsburg he went to Youngstown, Ohio, where he became part owner in a mill. Afterwards he returned to Pittsburg, from there went to Reading and finally in September, 1871, came to this county and located at Howard where he has continued to live ever since. At Howard he built several rolling mills and for many years did a large business.

Mr. Lauth was also an inventor and had patented four or five inventions of great merit, off of which he made a snug little fortune Mr. Lauth was married in 1840 to Miss Elizabeth Wilhelm, and seven children were born to them, five daughters and two sons. The subject of this sketch was lineally descended from Dr. William Laud, Archbishop of Canterbury.

The funeral will take place on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock from his late residence. Interment will be made at Howard.

What Harrisburg Thinks of Meany.

Much of the success of the team is due to the effective pitching of Meany, who has not lost a championship or exhibition game during the season. Such a reputation has this young man achieved that Louisville made an unsuccessful attempt to purchase him and Philadelphia, Boston and Pittsburg have their lines out for him. Meany is a modest player, and would rather remain in Harrisburg than take his chances with any club in the National League. He is not at all troubled with the big head, and while dispatches were rolling into this city yesterday asking for terms for his release he remarked that if he had his own way he would continue to play with Harrisburg until the close of the season of 1894.

E. K. Meyers, owner of the Harrisburg Club, offered to sell Meany to Manager Barnie, of Louisville, for $1,000, but holds him at a higher figure now. It might just here be added that Philadelphia and Boston have both deposited checks for $1,000 each with President Young to be forwarded to Harrisburg for the release of Meany, but President Meyers, of that team is still undecided whether to accept it or not.

Railway Construction in '93.

The railway construction in fortythree states and territories during the year of 1893 consisted of 2,435 miles of new track. This is 1,543 miles less than the total construction for 1892, and shows a much smaller amount of construction than in any year since 1878, when the total was 2,679 miles. The work last year was widely distributed, but the greatest amount of track was laid in the south Atlantic states. Pennsylvania was the only one of the middle states which made any addition to speak of, and shows an average of 304 miles added upon no less than fifty five different lines—many of these being short extensions of the Pennsylvania railroad company's system.

Killed His Hogs

A few weeks ago we made mention of the fact that the dogs killed twelve sheep, his entire flock, for Mr. Isaac Haupt on his farm in Benner township. Having got rid of all the sheep the dogs tackled Mr. Haupt's hogs and on Sunday night killed two large brood sows, worth about ten to fifteen dollars a piece. Mr. Haupt seems to be having a stroke of bad luck, so far as his stock and the dogs are concerned.

Chain Men Go to Work.

In Monday's NEWS we announced that the men employed in McCoy & Linn's chain works had gone on a strike. To-day we announce that the men are all at work again, their differences having been amicably settled by the company increasing the scale of wages paid to what it was before the last cut had been made. This being satisfactory to the men, all went to work this morning.

—As Americans who have twice suffered the same calamity, we can fully appreciate the depth of sorrow France, as a nation, must feel over the assassination of its honored and esteemed president, M. Sadi Carnot; and that we as deeply sympathize and mourn with them is a fact no less true. It is only to be hoped that a swift and sure punishment may be meted out to the ruthless assassin.

Coal Shipments at Clearfield

Clearfield Republican: The coal reports show a falling off of nearly 60,000 tons a week this year for the same time last year. This is on the Beech Creek line while the Pennsylvania from the Clearfield district shows a loss of nearly 70,000 tons for the week. Evidently the coal business is at a stand still in this section.

Prohibition County Convention.

The chairman of the Prohibition county committee has issued his call for the holding of their convention, on Tuesday, July 24th, at 10.45 o'clock a. m. It is the intention of the prohibitionists to put up a full county ticket and wage a vigorous campaign in the county.

PERSONAL PENCLINGS.

Mr. George N. Brandon, of Spangler, arrived in Bellefonte Monday evening.

Mr. John McCoy, of San Francisco, Cal., is visiting his father, Mr. John McCoy, of Potter's Mills.

Mr. William H. Zimmerman, of Pine Glen, was a pleasant caller at this office Thursday morning.

Mr. W. N. Neff, of Hughesville, Lycoming county, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Neff, at Howard, Pa.

Ira C. Mitchell, Esq., departed Monday evening for Philadelphia, on a visit to his son. He will be absent about two weeks.

Mrs. Dr. Bush and daughter, accompanied by Miss Rose Dusling, departed on Monday morning for Baltimore and Gettysburg, where they will visit friends for some time.

John C. Miller, one of Bellefonte's most active Republicans, was in Huntingdon on Monday afternoon, and said "how de do" to his host of friends. While here Mr. Miller stopped with his sister, Mrs. George W. Garrettson.—Globe.

It is said that General Beaver will depart in a week or two for a month's sojourn in the salubrious health-giving climate of Colorada. The General has been working quite hard of late and certainly deserves a good vacation.

Dr George F. Harris and wife returned Tuesday evening from an extended visit to Ithaca, N. Y., where they were entertained by their brother-in-law, Mr. William H. Sage. During the time Mr. Sage and Dr. Harris were up in Canada enjoying that most exhilerating as well as exciting sport, Salmon fishing. The Doctor reports having had a very enjoyable trip and, now that he has returned home, is again ready for business.

Chain Workers Strike.

Monday morning the men employed at McCoy & Linn's chain works, just below the nail works, went on a strike. So far as can be learned the strike was precipitated, not so much because of the low scale, but by what the old workmen termed an unfair division of the work.

According to the story of one of the men, it was agreed when work was begun that all the old workers should be given the best work, in consideration of them working for a low scale. This, he claimed, had not been done; but that most of the best work, if not all of it, had been given to the new men who had hardly finished their trade. The scale of prices paid was on the basis of 4½ cents a hundred links for trace chains and this is two cents lower than is paid at the York works and three cents lower than is paid in the western part of the state. Our informant claimed that it was impossible to make anything like fair wages at such prices. He told of one man who worked two days on log chains and made but 67 cents in the two days. What the result of this strike will be, of course, cannot be told at this writing.

Low Rates Account of Fourth of July

On July Fourth the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, to accommodate those desiring to travel on that day or attend the celebration at Mill Hall, will sell excursion tickets to and from all local stations at one way rate for the round trip.

In addition to regular trains extra trains will be run on this occasion. Trains will leave Bellefonte for Mill Hall at 7.00 and 8.30 a. m., 12.30, 3.00 and 5.25 p. m. Trains will leave Mill Hall for Bellefonte at 8.35 and 11.45 a. m., and at 3.00, 7.00 and 10.15 p. m.

Cheap excursion tickets will also be on sale at all stations on C. R. R. of Pa., to principal points on the Beech Creek R. R., and Philodelphia & Reading R. R., good going July 2nd, 3rd and 4th and returning on or before July 5th.

A Summer Vacation Suggestion.

July 17th and August 21st are the dates selected for a series of personally-conducted tours to the North under the auspices of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Watkins Glen, Niagara Falls, Thousand Islands, Montreal, Au Sable Chasm, Lakes Champlain and George, Saratoga, and the Highlands of the Hudson are among the many attractive places to be visited. This section is unquestionably the finest summer touring ground in eastern United States, and abounds in the most interesting and charming of scenery.

—If it will be Singerly against Hastings, the campaign will be a square-toed argument of free-trade against protective tariff, as both candidates will represent the extreme of each.

—Don't forget to attend the sale of the old office fixtures at the court house tomorrow. There is some good stuff there that will likely go pretty cheap.

TWO STABLES BURNED.

Quite a Brisk Fire at Five O'clock This Morning.

It was just about five o'clock Saturday morning when parties discovered smoke issuing from the stable of Hon. A. O. Furst, on the alley just north of Linn street, and it was but a very few minutes thereafter when the flames broke through the roof and the fire began in earnest. It was quite a little spell after the fire started until an alarm was sounded and by that time the entire upper story was a mass of flames. The fire companies responded promptly and were soon on the ground, but owing to there being no water in the plugs, could render but little service. Even the small hose that was there could not be brought into use, or the fire might have been checked before great damage was done. As it was Mr. Furst's stable was entirely destroyed, and the flames communicated to Mr. Maitland's stable across the alley and it also was burned to the ground. Everything in the shape of stock and carriages was gotten out of both stables, with the exception of a calf and one set of harness which were burned in Mr. Furst's stable. About two loads of hay were burned in Mr. Maitland's stable and a quantity of hay and some grain in Mr. Furst's. There is various theories as to how the fire originated, but as yet, there is no possible reason, at least now to be relied on as a certainty.

The loss on Mr. Furst's stable will be probably $500, on which there is an insurance of $200 in George L. Potter's agency. Mr. Maitland's loss will be about $400, insured in Charles Smith's agency for $200. It was a very fortunate thing that there was no wind blowing at the time, or nothing would have saved all the stables on that alley, and the flames might have communicated to some of the houses on Linn and Curtin streets.

Fire, and No Water.

The experience of Saturday is a lesson dearly learned to the water consumers of this town. When the fire broke out there was not a drop of water in the pipes on Linn or Curtin streets, and the consequence was, some valuable property was consumed. Had there been water, it is just possible that Mr. Furst's stable could have been saved. Certain it is, that Mr. Maitland's could have been.

Now, as to the lack of water, every person will have a reason of their own, but the true reason is the extravagant waste of water during the night. The reservoir was full of water at 8 o'clock Friday evening and with proper use, there should have been an ample quantity there this morning to have given water in any and all parts of the town. But the quantity used and wasted last night so lowered the reservoir that when so badly needed this morning it was not to be had. Then everybody knows how hard it is now to get fuel to run the pumps with and consequently steam is not kept up during the night. The water works did get what was supposed to be a car load of coal on Friday, but it proved to be only dirt, and it is next to impossible to get up steam with it. These are the reasons of no water this morning and they are very good ones. But the chief reason of all, is in the refusal of the miners to allow coal to be furnished the water works. And yet these same miners will come to Bellefonte and ask assistance to tide them over the strike.

Fever at Karthaus.

There have been 150 cases of scarlet fever at Karthaus since last November, only one of which has proved fatal, while in Clearfield and West Clearfield 50 per cent. of the cases have proved fatal.
